"HOW COULD YOU DO THIS?"

No matter how many people look at the same issue of EGM, they will each have their own view of what's written. No matter how many letters we receive indicting us for saying that Nintendo can do no wrong, we get just as many that say our motives should be questioned because we exclusively heap praise on Sega as the only company that can do things right.

Recently, I was witness to this type of individual interpretation when I casually drifted through the topics of a national bulletin board service. There was an enormous amount of banter concerning the last issue of EGM and a decision made by the Review Crew to gauge their opinions on Capcom's latest Street Fighter entry on the abundant similarities to previous installments of the game. While many agreed with the assessment of the reviewers that Street Fighter, unlike other fighter series, had failed to enhance the original enough to warrant an additional purchase, many felt the direction was totally inappropriate.

"How could they do this?" wrote one on-line scribe. Many echoed these sentiments and questioned how a Game Boy game could win the "Game of the Month," award when the latest SF entry was clearly so much better.

The answer is simple. Given the following that the Street Fighter franchise has among players (look at the number of times EGM has featured the game on its cover), Capcom has occupied the enviable position of deciding on whether or not to create minor upgrades to the classic game or to expand on the concept in its totality. As is evidenced by the three separate versions of the game that are currently in circulation for the Super NES, Capcom has provided minor upgrades that, from the perspective of the reviewers that have been chosen to play them, have unfortunately become repetitive.

Sure, Super Street Fighter is a superior game to earlier efforts that got better scores, but if you go back a couple of years you'll see that Monaco GP got incredible ratings upon its release. Would that game garner the same 9's and 10's it received in 1992? Does the fact that the latest addition to the SF2 saga has new play elements automatically translate into an experience deserving of a higher score? Obviously, as the scores themselves illustrated last month, it does not. We employ separate reviewers to each independently look at carts to provide a variety of opinions and insure that no one person has the ability to flack a game. The benefits of this system are clearly evident.

So is it wrong that the Review Crew used their wealth of background knowledge and experiences to come to the conclusions that were made? As has been said in this space before, they rate each game on its own merits, but it would be just as unfair for them to ignore previous versions of the same game in their current critique as it would for them to be expected to give Monaco GP the ratings it received when it was released.

Why am I taking Ed's space in the editor's column this month? It's not solely to explain how expectations change over time, but to also highlight what Capcom did in response to the reviews this new game received. And it is that story I will relate to you next month...

LETTER OF THE MONTH!

ACCESSORY ATTRACTION

I know this isn't exactly your area of expertise, but I've seen a lot of new accessories for the Genesis and the Sega CD (such as the Activator, Jukebox, etc.), but none new for the Super NES, Game Boy, or NES. I own a Super NES and a Game Boy and I'm very disappointed with Nintendo's lack of accessories. The closest thing I've seen Nintendo release lately is the Super Game Boy, which, I might add, did not get a big "WHOOPEE" from me. It's been two years since Nintendo came out with a new accessory. What's going on here? Are Sega's designers just more creative, or is Nintendo putting its feet up on the desk and thinking, "I got it made, I'm killing Sega in the sales." You probably won't print this, but if you do, I'd love a response.

David Schenbeck
Kennesaw, GA

(Ed Nintendo has brought out a few new accessories, but they have gone unnoticed. Nintendo has more experience with the success and failure of a new add-on. Take for instance Nintendo's first few accessories for the NES, the R.O.B. robot, and the Zapper light gun. The games made for these were few, and they were not as popular as Nintendo might have liked. The R.O.B. had two games, Gyromite and Stack-Up. Nintendo also released the Power Pad for the NES. That too, did not go over as well. Nintendo, unlike Sega, can rely on third parties for accessories. Remember the Power Glove and U-Force? The Jukebox you mention is also being made for the SUPER NES. Third parties like Naki, Nuby, and Ascii release joysticks, battery packs, carrying cases, etc. The Super NES has had the Super Scope, the Mouse, and the SGB. Sega's Activator is selling as a novelty piece, and at its price, it's not exactly a great value (with Eternal Champions, it's more than the price of the Genesis system. When Nintendo's got something good, they put it out.)

Nintendo's Super Game Boy is a chance to rest your eyes.

ONE RPG WITH CHEESE TO GO

I am a true RPG fan. I play them all day and all night. My record playing is about 18 hours straight!! I read about these RPG games in magazines and they say these games contain weeks worth of playing time, yet, when I play them it takes me maybe a little more than a day. My favorite RPG so far is Lunar-The Silver Star. It had a great plot and a lot of good ideas put into it, but it didn't last long enough. I was wondering if you could tell me what the longest, most challenging RPG is and how much it costs. I'll play it and then I'll write back and tell you how it went. I have a Sega and I don't have a Super Nintendo. Thanks

Jim Graham
Port Orchard, WA

(Ed. Unfortunately, Sega has not made an RPG for a while, and their third party licensees don't seem to want to bring any over from Japan. We're lucky we even saw Lunar in this country. If you've tried all the Phantasy Star games on the Genesis (II, III, IV later this year), and Shining in the Darkness, Shining Force, Dark Wizard, and Landstalker, then there's nothing else. You might want to check out Working Design's new game, Vay. Lunar 2 may be coming out soon from them as well. The fact is that Sega and their licensees don't release these games, so you might want to turn to Nintendo for salvation. You can get a core Super NES for around $80, and then you can play the legendary Final Fantasy games, Breath of Fire, Secret of Mana, Zelda, Soulblazer, The Seventh Saga, and many others. The Super NES gets more RPGs than the Genesis, and usually, they are longer, unless you compare one to a big Sega CD RPG. Until Sega starts to give RPG gamers what they want and stops delaying these games, the SUPER NES is the best choice for RPGs.)

FINAL FANTASY III

CONVERSION AVERSION

I've bought many games for my Genesis and have enjoyed them, but what I want to know is this: the Super Nintendo is a far superior machine to the Genesis, so why are their games made to a lesser quality than what they could be? Take for instance NBA Jam. It has far superior graphics than the Genesis, yet they deleted some options that I really enjoyed in the Genesis version. One of which was the Auto Stat feature so you don't have to write down a password. Another thing is the music [in the Super NES version], the announcer's voice is muffled and unexcited and there is no background music. Isn't the Super Nintendo supposed to have better sound than the Genesis? Another thing is the control of the game play. Mortal Kombat on the Genesis has very ugly graphics but it feels more like the arcade. Why is that? I have no problems with Street Fighter so why is the control worse on Mortal Kombat? I mean if you have a better system to work with, why not make it better than the other system? Do the companies intentionally do this so the Genesis won't be blown away? If that is so then I would like to say thanks, since I don't own a Super Nintendo.

Hong Kaing
Alexandria, VA

The first time around with Mortal Kombat, Genesis, Super Nintendo, Game Gear, and even lowly Game Boy received their respective versions available on a cartridge format. Myself and millions of others had to wait patiently for the Sega CD release. I'd love to know why we were made to wait so long for a slightly improved MK.

If you thought that they (Acclaim/Arena) would have gotten their acts together for Sega CD owners regarding MKII's release Mortal Kombat on the Sega CD was disappointing to some gamers.

LETTER OF THE MONTH!

If you think you have what it takes to contribute to society, go write to Newsweek. If, however, you have a thought or opinion that fellow gamers would particularly find crazy, we'd love to immortalize you with a special edition EGM T-shirt proclaiming your fondness of and psychosis to video games!

Dear EGM,

My sources have intercepted a secret letter between Midway and Acclaim. We believe that Acclaim is secretly working with Midway to produce a MORTAL KOMBAT 3!! When we opened the letter we found a very impressive advertising jingle. Surprisingly it is played to the tune of "Be Our Guest." I carefully sealed the letter back together and sent the letter on its way back to Midway. We of course made copies. We are sending this to you free of charge because you are such a great magazine. We would like your opinion on the goods we have found.

MORTAL KOMBAT #3

Lookie there, can it be?

Mortal Kombat #3

A sadistic game of blood and gore and flesh for you and me
With a slash and a gnash throw what's left into the trash
And eat it up for luncheon with your family
And you'll laugh with glee
To see what's left of me
Splat my gut, crush my skull, smash my spleen

Be my guest, Be my guest

Rip my heart out of my chest

As we do the Mortal Kombat moves which we know are the best

Rip my nose off my face

Then staple it back on in place

Stomp my eyeballs to a pulp upon the floor

Snap my spine in two

I really want you to

Chop me up

I'll come back for more.

Thanks for intercepting the letter guys. We'll send your alter egos EGM T-shirts. Thanks for Steven New, Josh Martin, and Kevin Neese of Arlington, TX, for risking life and limb to deliver this letter safely and intact to our offices.

this fall, you thought wrong. I AM [PEEV-ED]. Why are Sega CD owners once again being treated like stepchildren?! I would think that an initial release on CD only would cause many Mortal maniacs to loosen their purse strings and upgrade their Genesis or Nintendo to a Sega CD or CDX. Poor planning guys. Why are we being left out again?

James P. McGarry
Newark, NJ

(Ed. NBA Jam and Mortal Kombat were developed FOR Acclaim by two different development houses. Sculptured Software did the Super NES versions, and Probe worked on the Genesis and Sega CD versions. That was not the case with Capcom's Street Fighter II games, as Capcom developed both the Super NES and Genesis versions. When you have two development houses working on one title for different systems, there's the possibility of a few differences. For instance, Probe got the Genesis to perform well in the game play department, but not as good in the graphics and sound area. Whereas Sculptured did a great job on the Super NES version with the sound and graphics, but missed the game play mark by a bit. No company 'makes' a game play badly just so the other system will sell more. Both versions of MK and NBA Jam have sold well into the stratosphere. As for your question James, a CD platform is extremely difficult to program for. Especially a game like MK, an arcade translation that demands fast game play with no delays. Therefore, in order to maximize game play time and minimize loading time, Probe and Acclaim opted for the Genesis graphics with arcade sounds, etc. Of course, that won't appease Sega CD owners who waited so long for the closest possible translation. Acclaim has no current plans to release Mortal Kombat II on the Sega CD, but it is a possibility.)

The Super NES version of the original MK had great graphics and sounds.

PUSH YOUR SEGA CD TO THE MAX!

Based on the elite "Flying Nightmares" Marine Harrier squadron, this game really pushes the envelope of CD technology.

Everything is state-of-the-art: Stunning 3D texture-mapped graphics. Intense full-motion video sequences. Internal, external and missile camera angles. Plus the hottest CD-quality sounds and special effects.

It all adds up to the most exciting combat flight simulator on Sega CD. Imagine the power under your command: Harrier jump jets that can turn on a dime and stop dead in midair. Laser-guided missiles, cluster bombs and radar-jamming pods.

It's enough to make your heart pound and palms sweat.

It'll also strain your brain. This just happens to be one intelligent action-adventure game as well.

WHEN PAC RULED THE EARTH

All this grpe about which system is better has gotten me thinking. I own over 180 games for the 7800/2600, eight games for the 5200, and nine Lynx games (and still collecting 2600, 5200, 7800 games by the way). What were the specifications of each of these systems? And as an extra challenge, please tell me the largest game in Megs (or fractions of Megs) of each system. Please be very complete and thorough.

Also, there are two 7800 games (at least) that use a light zapper. Would an old Sega Master System light phaser work with my 7800 or maybe vice versa?

Thanks! Keep up the excellent mag!

Andrew Dowler
Nolanville, TX

(Ed. In the old days, no one cared how many Megs a game was, or how many sprites could be on the screen at one time. It just wasn't a factor. What mattered in those days was that the game had a lot of play variations (skill levels), could accommodate other players, and if it sounded cool or not. But, that's not going to answer your question. I asked a few game collectors if they knew, and they told me straight out of the 2600/7800/5200 developer's guide. All of the above mentioned systems are 8-Bit, using a family of 6502 processors at their heart. Today's Super NES, Lynx, NES, and Duo systems use a variant of this very same family. The 2600 uses a 6507, and can address up to 8k, with a maximum cart size of 32k (rumor has it Road Runner for the 2600 is 32k, the largest 2600/7800 game ever made). The resolution is higher than you might think: 160x192. The 5200 uses a 6502 family chip as well, the same one used in Atari's 400 and 800 computers. It has a special TIA (Television Interface Adapter) that controls the brightness and the background. It also contained a 6532 chip, a "Riot Chip" as it was dubbed, which has usable RAM in it. It would control the timer on certain games, and the controller in/out functions. The 7800 uses a custom chip called the 6502C, developed by Atari so that the 7800 can accommodate 2600 games. The 7800 has 64k addressing, and 4k of RAM. It could display 25 colors out of a palette of 256. Each sprite could have three colors with background. Since the 2600/7800 and Master System have the same pins for controllers, it's possible that what you mention would work, but try it first. For more information about games of the past, you may want to check out a new book by author Leonard Herman, called Phoenix: The Rise and Fall of Home Video Games. It's very informative and costs only $14, that includes shipping and handling. Make checks out to Leonard Herman, and send it to Phoenix, P.O. Box 3814, Union, NJ 07083-1891.)

THE END IS NEVER PRETTY

Why is it that so many great games have such sorry endings? To top the list is Super Metroid by Nintendo, now one of my favorite games—great game play, but the ending is the weakest ending I've seen—even with 100 percent item collection rate and a time of 2:59. Some other great games with weak endings include Metroid 2-Return of Samus (Game Boy), Fatal Fury 2 (Super NES), RoboCop Vs. Terminator, & Firepower 2000.

Mark Cooper
Houston, TX

(Ed. Endings are a dying breed. Maybe this letter is something that the video game companies should take a serious look at. Others who feel the same way as you do have been complaining about the long, drawn out credit scenes that take up 75 percent or more of the ending. In Sonic 3, for example. Sure, it's important to know who's behind the game, but I'd rather see at least two minutes of ending for two minutes of credits.)

A PLANET UNDER EVERY TREE

I am seriously thinking about purchasing the upcoming Super 32X, but I was wondering if it would be wiser to shell out some more cash for the Saturn instead. Since the 32X isn't compatible with the Saturn, they have to make a whole separate line of games for the 32X and it already seems to me from looking at some lists of upcoming games from your magazine and others that Sega is devoting more time to games for the Saturn rather than the 32X. I don't want to waste my money on the 32X if there is only going to be a handful of games. I bought a Sega CD not too long ago and rarely do I see any new games come out for it, but I see hundreds of new Genesis games coming out. If the 32X is only going to come out with a few games every couple of months like the Sega CD, when the Saturn is going to get more games, then I think I might buy the Saturn instead. Could you please tell me which system is better to buy and how much each will cost. I don't want to make the same mistake that I did when I bought the Sega CD.

If the Japanese Saturn never comes our way, we'll never play Magic Knight!

Scott Rusnak
Charlotte, NC

Okay, let's talk facts. We've been hearing about Saturn for about a year now, and now the Genesis 32X is coming. The specs have been released for both systems, but no one has compared the two machines. I am interested in both. I want the power of Saturn, but the price of the 32X makes it really attractive. How do the systems compare? How much of a noticeable difference will there be between them? One of my main concerns is about games overlapping. Will there be a 32X version and a Saturn version of games?

Will there be benefits to owning both? I mean, is the 32X only going to get translations of Saturn games or will there be original games exclusive to both? I guess it's still up in the air as to when Saturn will actually arrive in America (I've heard sometime between May-November '95). Will Sega abandon 32X once Saturn hits? I know I have a lot of questions, but I'm just trying to decide how to spend my money. I'm a little apprehensive about all the new things Sega wants to do. The Sega CD has left a bad taste in my mouth. I don't want to get burned again.

Phil Hinkle
San Antonio, TX

I was going to buy a new system this Christmas and I was wondering if you had any suggestions. My price range is up to $450. Will Electronic Arts sign on with the Saturn? Is the Saturn going to be the best or one of the best systems coming out? And lastly, will I be able to buy a Saturn in the U.S. by Christmas? I want to know all I can about the powerful Saturn.

Brian Holtze
Downers Grove, IL

(Ed. There are a LOT of misconceptions and rumors about the Sega Saturn system. Up to this point, all we have seen is what has been announced in Japan. The Sega Saturn is a Japanese machine, and Sega of America still stresses the fact that the Saturn has not been announced yet, and that they are concentrating on the 32X for the moment. That means good luck trying to get a Saturn machine for Christmas, unless you live in Japan. From what was complete at the Tokyo Toy Show, Japanese gamers will be lucky if they even have a handful of Saturn titles to choose from by the end of the year. On this side of the Pacific, the 32X will be Sega's major Christmas focus, and while we have seen a few of the works in progress, no games are close to being complete. Comparing the Saturn and 32X by specs alone isn't something that can be done. They are two totally separate machines. Overlap will definitely be something Sega will have to be careful with. Genesis owners who bought Sega's $100 Virtua Racing cartridge won't be happy when they see the 32X's Virtua Racing Deluxe selling for half that price. The Sega 32X CD games will also be overlaps, like Tomcat Alley Deluxe, Fahrenheit, and Midnight Raiders. All three games will be released on the regular Sega CD, and TCA already is on the market. As for suggestions as to which system deserves your hard earned money, this Christmas, there really aren't any. Unless you feel that the 32X is a

PHANTASY STAR I

A RE-RELEASE WHOSE TIME HAS COME

Thank Edwin Nelson of Chicago, IL, for this fantastic idea. It seems that he really likes the Phantasy Star series, but he can't find the original! So, in the spirit of Nintendo's Super Mario All-Stars, he'd like to see Sega upgrade the original game to 16-Bit and release it in this country! All of you who think this idea is great, write to Sega and tell them you want it!

Here's how to form your letter:

Dear Sega of America,

I have owned a Sega Genesis for some time and am a big fan of your Phantasy Star RPG series. I have played the Genesis versions thoroughly, and I can't wait for Phantasy Star IV later this year.

But, I would like to play the original Phantasy Star to see how it all started. I cannot find a copy of Phantasy Star, let alone a Master System to play it on.

So, myself and many others like me would appreciate it if you would upgrade the graphics, sound, etc., and release it on the Genesis. It would be like Nintendo's Mario All-Stars cart, and I know that I would buy it instantly, as would many others. It would not be hard to do, and it would be very popular.

Thank you for your time,
YOUR NAME

Write your letter, and hopefully we'll see Edwin's great idea come true. Here's the address to write:

good investment with Sega trying (and failing) to hide the Saturn from gamers, then go with that. Remember, less than a year away you've got Ultra 64, the PlayStation, the Jaguar CD-ROM, the Neo-Geo CD, and all the configurations of the 3DO to deal with. So, the best advice would be to sit and wait with your money. Then hope Sega gets their act together.)

ED SEMRAD

Blackthorne is one of the best action games to come around in quite some time. It's more or less a puzzle game too, with lots of brain power involved in solving its mysteries. It plays as well as it animates. Amazing. The dark mood of this game is great, and blowing away the prisoners is a ghoulish treat. This game is a must-see. If you've ever wanted a game that's easy to get into, you'll like this one.

DANYON CARPENTER

Right on par with games like Prince of Persia comes Blackthorne, a fun-to-play action game with the edibly smooth animation. The blend of strategy and mystery-solving is a nice break from simple walk-and-blast everything games. The game takes on a dark persona which makes some enemies hard to see in the background, but oh well, it just adds to the mystery. Blackthorne is simply too cool!

AL MANUEL

Blackthorne is one of the coolest games to come around. With some of the best animation ever you get to control a soldier through some of the most complex mazes filled with the most gruesome monsters. I love the sadistic humor in blowing prisoners up after they give you vital information. It gives me a tingly feeling inside. The graphics are dark and the sound is superb. A most enjoyable game!

SUSHI-X

In the same spirit as the earlier games Prince of Persia, Out of This World, and Flashback, here comes Blackthorne. This game really surprised me with its great control and excellent attacks. This one gets a little gruesome at times, but there are plenty of puzzles to solve and baddies to blow away. This game will definitely keep you playing for hours, if not days! The password feature is an absolute must.

MAJOR MIKE'S GAME ROUNDUP

Brainlord Enix/Super NES

Another action/RPG title from Enix. This one is more standard fare, with atmospheric music, huge levels, and average graphics. This one strikes a nice balance between the action and RPG elements, and will probably have a wider appeal. The story is a bit plodding at times, but veteran RPG players will catch on quickly and get hooked.

8 ED 7 DANI 7 AL 8 SUSHI 7 MIKE

Yogi Bear Gametek/Super NES

Cartoony and cute graphics are the highlight of this cartoon-character-gone-to-video game cart. The levels are huge, but the run-and-jump-grab-the-items game play gets monotonous rather quickly. There are some great sound effects, though, and younger kids will probably take to this game faster than older gamers will.

7 ED 6 DANI 5 AL 7 SUSHI 6 MIKE

R-Type III Jaleco/Super NES

This is definitely one game you won't master in one sitting! Fans of the earlier installments in the R-Type saga will want to check this one out. Huge levels, excellent Bosses (and a rather high difficulty) make this the shooter to get. The two-player is a nice option, and thank goodness for the unlimited continues! Nice purchase, Jaleco!

8 ED 8 DANI 8 AL 8 SUSHI 8 MIKE

Clay Fighter Interplay/Genesis

Everything on the Super NES version has been faithfully carried over—all the moves, all the fighters, and remarkably clear and crisp voices! This was always a clever parody of the fighting genre, and I can't wait for C2 Judgment Clay to arrive. The control, however, is a little bit touchy, and you will definitely want to use the six-button controller to fully enjoy this one.

7 ED 6 DANI 6 AL 7 SUSHI 7 MIKE

Super NES Bandai

Power Rangers

Action	Release: Now
Levels: 7	18 Meg

I'm sure that this game is intended for a younger audience, because for the average player, it's much too easy. The different character selections is a nice idea, but the characters are animated rather poorly. This cart also seems rushed, because after the first level, this cart got way too monotonous, with none of the effects that made the first part so cool. Power Rangers looks good, and plays well, but it's easy.

I don't care for the show at all but the game comes off rather well. Although it's just another mindless Final Fight-type game, all the rug rats that love the show will probably find themselves enjoying this one. The game is simply way too easy for experienced players to truly enjoy. The animation also suffers from a bad case of the choppy. As before, if you like the show, you may like the game but not for very long.

Power Rangers is nothing more than your average punch and kick action-adventure game. It offers very little challenge. There should have been more colors used! This also should have been a two-player simultaneous game. On the plus side, the sound is good with a cool music intro straight from the show. I also like the ability to switch between any of the five characters. This game could have been more.

Take away the title, and Power Rangers is nothing more than a side-scrolling Final Fight punch-and-kick with all the popular characters to choose from. The random Power Ranger attacks add to the game's diversity, and the graphics are excellent. However, I was left wanting something more. This game will probably be a mega-hit, but don't let the sales numbers fool you—you will probably be disappointed.

Super NES Sunsoft

The Death/Return of Superman

Action	Release: Now
Levels: 10	16 Meg

As far as side-scrolling fighting carts go, I'd have to say that this one is only average. The graphics are not up to Sunsoft's standards. The levels become repetitive, and there aren't all that many types of enemies. The Bosses are quite cheap, and the usual strategies don't really work. If the control was tweaked, and had more diversity, this cart would be a lot better. It's only okay. Nothing special.

Average. That's the best word to describe this game. The moves are average, the plot is average, and this will only appeal to those who worship the comic books. Repetitive is another word that comes to mind. Although games of this nature have the same enemies over and over, this game is even worse, even the background repeats excessively. As it stands, more variety and better control would certainly help.

The Death and Return of Superman is definitely a game that the comic book fans would love because it follows the comic book exactly. For those other than the comic book freaks, it's nothing more than a Final Fight rip-off. Also, how many times can you see the same building scroll by in the background?! This game is one you might want to rent before you go out and purchase it!

I liked Final Fight and similar types of side-scrollers but Superman seemed to be just another one. The game isn't bad but it just doesn't have anything special about it to make it stand out. The ability to play the four different Supermen is a plus but the background and enemies seemed to repeat too much. Comic fans will like the consistency that's brought to video, but others will find it average.

Genesis Accolade

Zero Tolerance

RPG	Release: Now
Levels: 30	16 Meg

For those of you who can't get enough Wolfenstein and Doom, Accolade has got a new first-person game that's sure to test your mettle. Zero Tolerance surprisingly scrolls smoothly, and plays great. At times the enemy can get pretty cheap. The levels are huge, and I like all the weapons you can pick up. Overall, Zero Tolerance is a fast-paced shooter that shines particularly well on the Sega Genesis.

Well, this is something new for the Genesis. Zero Tolerance looks and feels like Wolfenstein or Doom, but without the extreme gore. The first thing anyone will notice is how tough this game is. Getting attacked from all sides is not uncommon; in fact, it's the norm! However, if you feel like lugging your Genesis and a TV over to a friend's house, you can cooperatively play in a Two-player Mode. Cool and fun.

ZT is one of the most violent games I have ever played. The gore, blood, and carnage throughout the levels are excellent. It's great taking every enemy in sight with all the cool weapons. As a one-player game, it's great. I just didn't care for the two-player simultaneous game. Maybe it's because I want to do all the killing. Capping my partner was fun sometimes. The control also needs weeding out!

If you like Castle Wolfenstein or Doom just get this one and you'll feel right at home. It's a great 3-D scrolling game with good graphics and playability. The levels and enemies look good on the Genesis and the sounds are decent. The game gets very addicting after a short time of getting used to it. Good scrolling and fun game play make it worth the effort. I also liked the split monitor option that it came with.

MAJOR MIKE'S GAME ROUNDUP

GA Dynamite Headdy Sega/Genesis

Another unique title from the folks at Treasure (the company that gave us Gunstar Heroes). The main character, Headdy, has several excellent attacks (using different "heads"), and the levels are very colorful, with some knockout visual effects (like the rotating platforms and the giant blimp dog Boss). This is a top action title for the Genesis.

8 ED 8 HANO 6 AL 8 SUSHI 8 MIKE

GA Shining Force II Sega/Genesis

A worthy follow-up to the first RPG, with bigger areas to explore and characters to meet. This will definitely appeal to fans of the first one, and to RPG fans in general. It assumes you've played the first Shining Force, but the story could use a few more twists and turns. The music is very good, as is the easy-to-follow control configuration.

7 ED 6 HANO 7 AL 7 SUSHI 7 MIKE

NYR Power Monger Electronic Arts/Sega CD

A very detailed war simulator, with good graphics and subtle sound. Action fans will probably shun this one, but students of armed combat involving troop movements, armaments, and other motions will probably love it. A very long game, this title lets you do everything for your armies. Fans of the Koei strategy games will like this.

7 ED 7 HANO 6 AL 7 SUSHI 6 MIKE

GA Eye of the Beholder Sega/Sega CD

A first-person RPG, with some excellent options—like creating your characters from scratch. The combat scenes take a lot of practice to master fully (especially with enemies that are a little too quick on the attack), and moving the characters around the various areas also takes time. The graphics are good enough, but the sound could be improved.

7 ED 7 HANO 7 AL 7 SUSHI 8 MIKE

Genesis Capcom

Super Street Fighter II

Fighting Release: Now

Levels: N/A 40 Meg

This is just more of the same fighting game to me. But on the other hand, compared to the other Genesis version, this one controls twice as well. The new characters are pretty good, and the graphics are okay. They're just a bit dithered. The audio suffers from the Genesis limitations. If you want another Street Fighter II, fine, but don't expect too many new ideas. How's about a Street Fighter III?

Although Super SF2 looks and plays identical to the Super NES version, I must give it a lower score due to "the law." Of course this could only mean the voices. Yeesh! What happened here? Laryngitis strikes again. Other than that, you're buying another SF2 for four new characters and a couple of new moves. You just might enjoy this game with the volume turned way down, but it's more of the same.

Another year, another Street Fighter. I've heard this song before! Hopefully it will be the last time. The four new characters are a great addition, but are they enough reason to go buy the game? Yes, there are new moves for the other fighters, but there aren't enough to make it any different. Although the graphics are a good match to the arcade, the sound really takes a dive. It's better to turn down the volume.

You have to face the facts that Street Fighter II is the best playing fighting game. However, the constant upgrading is getting a bit tired. The four new characters are a definite plus, but it's hard to say if it's worth the cost, especially with Super Turbo not far off. SF fans will want to get the latest edition. It is an excellent port from the arcade with good graphics and sounds. The choice is yours to upgrade or not.

Genesis Sega

Taz in Escape From Mars

Action Release: Now

Levels: N/A 16 Meg

The first Tazmanian Devil game wasn't all that hot, and thankfully Sega added some game play to this one. The audio still suffers a bit, and sometimes it's hard to find out what to do. The visuals need some help, as they are too simple, even for the cartoon. The new Taz isn't a bad game, it just needs a little work. If you were one of those who enjoyed the first game, then you'll see that this one is definitely better.

This game is a noticeable improvement over the previous Taz games. The control is much more precise and the new techniques Taz can do really help out in the strategy department. The sound is typical Sega standard-fare tunes but the levels are very colorful and have a lot to interact with. The other character cameos are always a welcome addition. As a whole, this is a good, solid action game with potential.

Although I'm a pretty big fan of Looney Tunes characters, namely Taz, I can't say the same thing about this game. Taz 2 is nothing more than your standard platform game with a few new techniques thrown in. The graphics are dull and drab making my interest stray. On the plus side, the levels are huge and the game is pretty challenging. Other than that, I would say that this game is only for Taz fans.

I've always liked the Looney Tunes characters in video games, and I found this Taz to be a big improvement over the previous Genesis game. Taz's new attacks were cool, but some of the Bosses were a little too hard (like the stage three Boss—good luck!). The cameos by the other Tune characters (like Marvin Martian) were also a big plus. I don't think Taz likes the score given by the guy above me...

3DO Core

Battlecorps

Levels: 13 CD-ROM

I was surprised at this game. The graphics scaled very well. The audio was perfect for the missions, and the feel was just right. Now if it didn't look as pixelated, I would really have enjoyed this CD. It is pretty hard to tell what's shooting at me, and mines are pretty hard to miss, too. As a fan of mech combat in all its forms, I got into this one. It's not great, but it does stand out as one of the better titles on Sega CD.

It's nice to see Sega CD developers taking a new direction in software. Battlecorps is a cool concept that just doesn't fare as well as it could. Although everybody has said the graphics are pixelated, it does make for a bad situation in combat. The whole idea of piloting a mech is cool and the different stages make for a nice change, but I can't help but wonder how much better this game could be with cleaner graphics.

Well, I'm sorry to say that I can't agree with Ed about this game. I just don't think that Battlecorps is that great of a game. For starters, the graphics in the first-person battle scenes are too pixelated making it very hard to see the enemy that's firing at you. The music during the battle scenes doesn't even match the action. You'd think it was from an adult film. And the controls really need work. I'll pass.

I really wish I could understand what the guy is saying in the introduction. Battlecorps is an interesting attempt at a behind-the-wheel of a giant mech, it just isn't done that well. The graphics and scrolling are a bit pixelated, and the music sounds completely inappropriate (it sounds like elevator music). Still, it does have some interesting and challenging levels. The selection of warriors is a nice point.

You can't get your hands on Troy's playbook, but you can get your hands on a few key pages.

Troy Aikman NFL™ Football™

Like Page 7, Troy's "Pitch", the play that turned the Bills into four-time losers. And Page 21, Troy's favorite—"Lookie", the one that's made a lot of NFL cornerbacks consider a career change.

With Troy Aikman NFL™ Football™ you get the best of Troy's favorite Superbowl winning, defense-spinning, top secret, confidential, straight-from-the-Cowboys-playbook plays.

And if Troy's favorites on top of more than 50 offensive configurations aren't enough for you, with Troy Aikman NFL Football you can custom design your own plays. Even custom design your whole team. A unique reserve budget, "Team Setup", lets you allocate team funds. So if you want a grind-it-out ball-control offense, invest in a monster line and a power fullback. You want a smothering defense, throw your linebackers a couple mill.

Troy Aikman NFL Football gives you everything you need to build a winning team. Especially Troy's exclusive straight-from-the-Superbowl-champion-Cowboys'-playbook plays.

You don't just get any offense, you get Troy's offense, with Troy's favorite plays. Now you're headed for the Super Bowl!

Only Troy's game lets you control your team's budget. Beef-up your offensive line, secondary or any other position—just like the pros!

MAJOR MIKE'S GAME ROUNDUP

Alone in the Dark Interplay/3DO

A faithful translation of the PC title, this game has excellent graphics and sound plus is more strategy-oriented. Getting used to the perspective and controls takes a little bit of time. But for fans of more deliberate game play, this is the one to get. Playing as a man or a woman is a nice touch (each with their own stories), with plenty to explore.

5 ED 8 BANG 7 AL 8 SUSHI 8 MIKE

Gridders Tetragon/3DO

A cool-looking 3-D perspective game that is one of the better games for the system. The game gets really intense (especially in the later levels), and there are several hidden items to find along the way to keep you interested. Fans of puzzle games like Tetris and Pac-Attack will definitely take to this game. The cinematics are also well done.

8 ED 7 BANG 7 AL 8 SUSHI 8 MIKE

Shining Force Sega/Game Gear

A nice RPG offering for the portable system. Although it is scaled down from the 16-Bit big brother version, this one keeps almost all the same elements. There are several hours of game play in this one, with the music and graphics taking first chair. This is the type of game made for the portable system when you take a long trip.

7 ED 7 BANG 6 AL 7 SUSHI 7 MIKE

The Blues Brothers Titus/Game Boy

It took this game long enough to reach the video game platforms, but by looking at the finished product it really hasn't been worth the wait. The attacks are awkward and look silly, in addition to the strange power-ups (like the one that makes you muscle-bound). It controls alright, but you aren't given nearly enough time in the various stages.

Way of the Warrior

Fighting	Release: Now
Levels: N/A	CD-ROM

Way of the Warrior has all the makings of a good fighting game. The graphics, fatalities, and such are great. But as with most games of this type, the control is what pulls it down. The control is much too sluggish to play. The digitized graphics are surprisingly clear, and the animation is pretty good. The fatalities and the last guy are certainly worth seeing. I'd have to recommend renting this one first to see if you like it or not.

Way of the Warrior is a very beautiful game to look at. Now that the good points have been taken care of, let's see what went wrong. First off, the control is absolutely horrible. Jumping around is a near impossibility, let alone the special moves. The music and sounds are decent but it looks as if too much time was spent on pretty graphics, rather than a fighting game that was at least playable.

I thought fighting games were supposed to play like fighting games. Well, this one didn't play at all. The control is so bad I had to struggle to get any character to jump forward. The special moves aren't anything special at all if you even get to do them. The only redeeming quality about this game is the graphics which is where it seems all the programming went into. Overall, this game isn't even good by accident!

Um, hello? This game has great humor value and some excellent graphics, but as a fighting game, no. The fighters' moves are very difficult to pull off, and some characters have very unfair advantages over others. The Bosses are very big and colorful, but this game is better to look at than to play. I especially liked the biker girl with the lousy trash talk, and Shakey Jake. Clever, if not overdone, fatalities.

Game Gear Sega

Dynamite Headdy

Action	Release: Now
Levels: 5	4 Meg

Headdy for Game Gear turned out to be surprisingly good. It plays well, there are lot of secrets to find, and it's really colorful. I have a feeling that Headdy will be a sleeper. Hopefully, this one will get everyone's interest, because a lot of people missed the excellent Gunstar Heroes. This game is one of the better action games in the portable market. I like this one, and will probably play it during my long trips.

As one would expect, Dynamite Headdy is a great game. The wizards at Treasure programmed this puppy to have loads of secrets, great game play, and just plain fun to goof around with. The graphics are really crisp and clean. But when Headdy runs, the graphics are really blurry. The Game Gear just doesn't have the ability to pump out cool tunes, so the music really rots. Overall, this is a good purchase.

Unlike the Genesis version of this game, I just wasn't impressed enough. Dynamite Headdy for the Game Gear plays just as good as its 16-Bit cousin, allowing for great play control. The graphics were decent, but the levels were smaller. There just wasn't enough to look for, and it seemed too straightforward. I thought the sounds were nothing to brag about, just average like most sounds on a portable. It's so-so.

A very faithful portable version of Headdy, with great graphics and excellent control. Some of my colleagues don't find Headdy very creative, but I disagree—for the Sega systems, he is one of the more original characters to appear. Huge levels (involving more than just bashing enemies) await. The guys at Treasure are certainly on the right track (first with Gunstar Heroes). Let's see some more.

Game Boy Gametek

Yogi Bear

Action	Release: Now
Levels: 24	1 Meg

Yogi Bear is a good cart for the Game Boy. In terms of game play, it surpasses the Super NES version. The graphics are big enough to be easily seen, and it controls great. Using the Super Game Boy, I was able to enjoy this game even more. Yogi has some catchy music to it, and the sounds are good for the GB. I really liked this game, although I don't care for the character. Yogi is a good game.

Yogi strikes again. This game simply must be purchased for players under six or it will find its way out the window. The game is simply too mindless for older players, walk, pick up baskets, jump, etc. The levels have no real originality and each one looks like the last. The music? Forget it. Yawn. And the worst part is that the game burs, even when walking very slow. A good gift for the kiddies only.

For those who are fans of Yogi Bear, I'm sorry, but this has got to be one of the most boring games I have ever played. The levels don't have anything really special or unique. Everything seems to look alike. The music immediately became a monotonous drone and I quickly turned down the volume. On top of that, Yogi has only one unoriginal ability, jumping to defeat enemies. It left me unimpressed.

Yogi on Game Boy is okay. The traditional jump-and-collect-the-items game play gets tired quickly, though, and the levels weren't very challenging. The graphics are pretty good (especially with the Super Game Boy peripheral), but there is just nothing distinctive about this cart other than the title. Fans of the lovable bear will probably want to check this out, but there are better carts based on cartoon characters elsewhere.

...Happy ho-hos, of Quarter-fans, 'tis I, the guru of gaming - back once again from the dark side with arms loaded down with the hottest insider dirt that money can buy. That said, the Q-Machine is in overdrive, with early work on a boatload of upcoming products for your eyes only...The first stop on the Q-Mann's monthly trip into the gaming underworld lands yours truly in Japan where Sega is really riding high! Not only is Virtua Fighter blowing away Super SF2 Turbo, but Daytona is king of the raceways. The latest virtual entry from the big 'S' is Virtua Cop, sort of a combination of Lethal Enforcers with scaling and zooming. It's kind of simple in concept so it probably will hit the home systems soon. Did I hear someone say 32X?...While we're on the subject of Sega, the Quartermann has discovered that Knuckles has escaped from the Sonic 2 and 3 games! Sega will be billing this as the plotline to their new Sonic vs. Knuckles game coming out later this year. My schedule shows a release date of Oct 18th.

..While the 32X and Sega Saturn both utilize the same Hitachi chips, the Q-Mann has learned that the hardware engines are different enough to cause serious software incompatibility problems between the two systems. The Q has heard rumors that Sega knows about this and with their commitment to have all of their systems downwardly compatible, the king of the 16-Bit hill is being forced to either restructure their Saturn to include a whole separate internal 32X engine, or to create another 32X 'add on' adapter which will plug into the Saturn. The Q has also heard rumors that you WON'T be paying for this extra enhancement! How's that? More to come...Excuse me, but how can that new convention be the biggest in the world? They haven't even gotten their first one off the ground - unless you're counting the number of times they've moved the show...

...This just in! SNK has leaked out news that my bud Terry Aki recently picked up in Japan. Evidently, the company is already hard at work on a Neo-Geo CD 2 system! Not bad, considering the first one isn't out yet! This new unit will be designed in the same fashion as the Sega CD2, with the motorized CD tray replaced with a clam-shell manual door. Other cost savings are also rumored to be added to the final product...SNK also has some interesting carts coming our way. Look for what many are already billing as the ultimate fighting game ever! It's called King of Fighters and this mega cart will combine the best characters from World Heroes, Fatal Fury and Art of Fighting - with everybody knocking the sense out of each other in a massive melee never before seen in gaming history! Also look out for Aero Fighters 2 and Agressors of Dark Combat...

...Nintendo is hard at work doing conversions of their more popular titles for the upcoming Ultra 64 machine. While the Q still thinks it sounds like a gasoline ("crystal clear, Amoco Ultra 64..."), this upcoming mega machine is set to debut with some killer names behind it, including Pilot Wings 2 and, of course, a new Mario entry that is rumored to be packed with action, driving, AND flying sequences! Can't wait ..Acclaim is moving very quickly to be one of the first third party licensees to bring out Ultra 64 games. Since the Q has discovered from inside sources that they already have an Ultra 64 development system, this should give the house of many labels a good head start on the competition. Look for their first entries to include Turok, based on the Valiant comic book...

...Sources close to yours truly have dished up some dirt on the rumored Hasbro virtual reality system. It looks like the toy giant will be bringing out their headset hardware sometime next year to go head-to-head (so it was a pun, shoot me), with Sony, Sega, Nintendo and other next generation machines. The unit was being shown at a secret closed-door meeting that the Q just happened to walk in on. It was a nice piece of machinery, with a $299 price tag that, considering you get a helmet with two video monitors ready to blast images into your brain, isn't such a bad deal after all...Is it just me or was the middle of True Lies really boring?...Is Sega planning to bring back their 3-D glasses? The Q-Mann has discovered that Ecco 2 will be a 3-D game, but how Sega plans to pull off the 3-D effect remains a mystery to everyone except...

...Terry Aki just phoned (thank goodness for Friends and Family II The Next Generation) to tell me that Virtua Fighters 2 will hit the streets of Tokyo any day with more characters, better graphics, and more polygons...Speaking of Virtua Fighters, Sony's special Play Station press reception in Japan showcased a VF clone. While the Q discovered that Sony isn't responsible for the swipe, it is good enough to give the Saturn rev a run for its money...'Til next month, the Q tips his hat to Sam M., in the GENie's bottle. Thanks for the support Sam...

NINTENDO TO BE AT CES INTERACTIVE '95

Less than 48 hours after the plans for the 1995 CES Interactive were announced, one of the biggest players in the video game industry announced their intention to exhibit.

The CES Interactive show will have a total of 300,000 square feet of exhibitor booth space. Since the show was first announced, 24 companies have signed on to exhibit. Those names include Alias Research, who is working with Nintendo on development technology for the Ultra 64, GTE Interactive, Konami, Nak, Ocean of America, STD Entertainment, Taito, Time Warner Interactive, and Turner Interactive.

Peter Main, vice president of marketing at Nintendo of America called the '94 CES their "best show in three years and we are looking forward to participating in CES Interactive next year in Philadelphia."

It is expected that Nintendo's licensees will also sign on for exhibit space. But, Sega may be absent again next year, as some sources have indicated that they have already reserved space in Orlando for another dealer-only showing.

VR MKII?

Come September, you'll be feeling a lot more of Mortal Kombat II than you might want to.

Pick up an MKII cart and you'll see an Aura Interactor card inside. Likewise, if you buy an Interactor Virtual Reality vest, you'll see an MKII card.

MKII and the Aura Interactor will make for some great game playing!

NEW TECH FOR ULTRA 64

Using Rambus technology, Nintendo's Ultra 64 machine (scheduled for a fall '95 release) will run at a zippy 500 mHz.

The results on screen will be fast, smooth game play and texture mapping. This is a major leap in technology when you consider that PC systems use processors that are between 30 and 66 mHz.

Howard Lincoln, Nintendo chairman, states, "The addition of Rambus is a significant step. They not only make possible the processing speed we require to give consumers a totally new video game experience, but they deliver that technology at an affordable price."

Be looking for Ultra 64 games to hit an arcade near you this fall.

SNK'S NEO-CD TO LAND NEXT SPRING!

The amazing Neo•Geo CD-ROM system is coming along in its development stages.

We decided to catch up with the system, and there's a few new things that may be of interest.

The system is tentatively scheduled for a spring/summer '95 release. The suggested retail price may be somewhere around $399. And, we have been told that they are planning 50 titles to be ready at the launch, a mixture of new releases and older Neo•Geo games that have been ported over onto the CD platform.

In other Neo news, Aero Fighters 2 will soon be around, so be looking for a preview in EGM.

SNK will not abandon their cartridge system, as games are in development for that as well.

If SNK can deliver the goods, many arcade gamers will be in for a pleasant surprise next spring!

3DO'S FALL/WINTER GAME PLAN ANNOUNCED

Star Control II gets ported over and re-vamped for the 3DO.

For those of you out there who bought a 3DO when it first came out, you know of the drought in new software titles. But for Christmas this year, you'll be very happy to see what they've got planned. 3DO and their third party licensees are developing new software as quick as they can.

Slayer is the first Advanced Dungeons & Dragons title for the 3DO, and features a unique randomizer that will make every game different. Monsters, the layout of the mazes, and the puzzles you must solve will all be completely new each time you play. A first-person perspective adds to the game play and over 4 billion dungeons can be created. You'll be armed with weapons and magic, but will you be brave enough to survive?

Alone in the Dark by Interplay is a new 3DO game that has been ported over from the PC. It involves a horrific world where secrets and evils of Derceto come to life. It takes full advantage of the 3DO's cinematic capabilities for the best play possible.

Kingdom: The Far Reaches takes you on a quest to retrieve the five pieces of an amulet known as The Hand. This 3DO original is filled with amazing animated cinemas to tell this complex and intriguing story.

board, through tunnels and curves in three stages of fun. No doubt you'll be hearing many a PaTaank!

To satisfy arcade rats everywhere, Super Street Fighter II Turbo will be coming to the 3DO as well. Add to that Samurai Shodown, and you've got a holiday season that is packed with new games. And what we've mentioned here is just a sampling.

Other new titles coming soon include Dragon's Lair II: Time Warp, Duelin' Firemen!, FIFA Soccer, Flashback, Space Pirates, Tetsujin, The Lost Files of Sherlock Holmes, Virtuoso, VR Stalker, and Way of the Warrior. It's definitely going to be a great year!

32X AND SATURN

At the CES, we were able to ask a few questions about Sega's 32X and Saturn systems.

Earlier, we reported that Super Space Harrier would be released. That title has since been pulled from their 32X development list.

The 32X will not come with a pack-in game, but there will be an unspecified surprise enclosed in the box. We'll have to wait to see what that might be. There may also be a Genesis configuration soon with the 32X hardware built in.

The first titles to be available for the system are Tempo, Doom, Star Wars Arcade, and Virtua Racing Deluxe. More will follow soon after and in time for Christmas.

The 32X will connect to any Genesis configuration, including the CDX and X 'Eye. So if you bought one of these specialty Genesis configurations, you will not be left out.

As for the Saturn system, Sega of America still won't comment. However, it's possible that the U.S. market will get a totally different configuration of Saturn hardware.

Whether this means they'll change it from being a 32-Bit system has yet to be known. But, they are thinking of changing the Saturn hardware for the U.S. market.

Virtua Racing Deluxe is headed our way on Sega's 32X super machine.

ARCADE ACTION

WING WAR by Sega

Sega has once again tested the limits of the imagination with their latest coin-op wonder. Wing War is an aerial battle game unlike any you've seen before.

Taking its cue from games like Virtua Racing and Virtua Cop, Wing War takes the player to a battle in the skies. The game allows for three viewing perspectives, including cockpit, rear, and top. Wing War also incorporates a new Automatic View button which enables the player to view the action from an optimum perspective automatically. This excellent feature adds additional realism to this exciting new title.

The game's processor is also a marvel. It has the ability to process surprisingly realistic images at 180,000 polygons per second! This gives the game a very fluid, lifelike feel. Players also get to pick from eight different fighters ranging from propeller-driven planes to military jets.

If you get a chance, check out Sega's Wing War. The missions are exciting, and not too tough for the average gamer. This game is going to be very popular in arcades!

The graphics are really smooth thanks to the game's awesome processor.

Target the enemies with your gunsights and let them have it with your weapons.

DARKSTALKERS: THE NIGHT WARRIORS™ by Capcom

Each player has a variety of bizarre and wacky special moves in their arsenal.

The classic "horror show" backdrops lend an air of comedy to the game!

Anakaris the Egyptian mummy likes to keep his opponents "all tied up."

Sasquatch shows off his chilling special move—the dreaded Big Snow. Burp!

Capcom has announced the arrival of a new fighting game due to hit the arcades this fall. Darkstalkers The Night Warriors™. This latest brawl-fest looks to be one of the most monstrous (excuse the pun) releases from Capcom yet!

Square-off with an opponent, either real or computerized, using some of the most recognizable monsters of all time! You get all of the goodies of a regular fighting game, but with a sometimes comical twist. Pick between a very unique ensemble of warriors including a vampire, a werewolf, a sasquatch, a zombie, and other monstrously awesome contenders from the late night horror show!

Each contestant has a huge variety of moves including secret moves which can be performed to inflict maximum damage on your opponents.

Darkstalkers appears to be more of a cartoon-like fighting game than Capcom's Street Fighter games. Some of the characters' special moves are hilarious to watch—especially the sasquatch's Big Snow move where he "hurls" a glob of snow at his opponent to freeze them. What a riot!

Featuring a six-button controller and a joystick for full-featured game play, this ghoulishly fierce fighting game is sure to appeal to an incredibly large number of arcade-goers. Capcom's Darkstalkers: The Night Warriors™ should prove to be a big hit!

The character animations are among the best ever seen in a fighting game.

Use the health bar to gauge your performance and the strength of your foe.

Keep an eye on the special moves meter located at the bottom of the screen.

AERO FIGHTERS 2 by SNK

Huge Bosses like this are a common sight in SNK's Aero Fighters 2!

There's a wide range of pilots to select from. You can even play as a dolphin!

Make sure that you're powered-up so you can annihilate all of the enemies.

Weapon power-ups can be easily obtained by destroying various objects.

Hold on to your seats everybody, Aero Fighters 2 is ready to make a landing at your local arcade! Aero Fighters 2 is the sequel to one of the most popular arcade shooters ever made. Fans of the first installment will definitely not be disappointed.

This shoot-'em-up features humongous end Bosses, fantastic graphics, cool special weapons, and an excitement level that will take its toll on your heart! To add to all of this, there's the always welcome option of playing a two-player simultaneous game with a friend!

You can select your pilots and jets from a wide assortment of countries from around the globe. Some of the pilots are actually pretty comical, like a dolphin and a little kid! Too funny!

There's little lacking in this shooter fan's dream-come-true! So strap yourself into the cockpit and get ready for Aero Fighters 2 from SNK.

This immense battleship Boss is a real pain to destroy—so stick with it!

The enemy aircraft come in all shapes and sizes so keep your eyes peeled!

Each pilot has his/her very own special attack. Use it in an emergency!

For even more effective playing, two players can go at it simultaneously.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Yo gamers! This is the 'Aki-man with the latest scoop from the good ole Land of the Rising Sun! After a wee bit of lag time after the Toy Show, we are now getting a whole slew of killer carts! First on the interesting tidbit list is that the NEC 32's official name was finally bestowed, the PC-FX.

On the 20th of July, Sony presented a showing of working PlayStation games! First off was Konami hitting it big with Super Parodius, which is said to be a letter-perfect clone of the arcade—and that's not all! Also available on the disk is the original version of the first Parodius! Wow! There was also an incredible looking Virtua Fighter-type game from a yet unnamed company, and Gundam RX78, a full polygon fighting game from Bandai!

In the regular video game news, Konami has announced that they are hard at work on Goemon 3 (the sequel to Legend of the Mystical Ninja). Also the company Saurus of Japan announced that they are going to produce Art of Fighting 2 for the Super Famicom. That's about it for this ish', but don't forget to check out my best buds Nob and the "Virus" in the pages of EGM! Kochi Kochi!

Victory is sweet!

There's always a chance a video game will make it to market with bugs. In Koei's newest Game Boy title — Stop That Roach — we're making sure our game has lots of bugs (roaches, that is). As either Ken or Lilly, it's your job to battle those nasty critters that have invaded your kitchen and are eating all your snacks.

Pick up the nearest household item, be it a broom or bedroom slipper and smash the bugs flat. But watch out, these roaches have a serious attitude and aren't afraid to fight back! Once you have corralled a group of roaches, lure them into a trap or eliminate them using bug spray. In all, the roaches have 100 different strategies for getting past you and at the food. What are you waiting for? Arm yourself and enter the kitchen swinging. We guarantee you'll find bugs!

The animals of Bumps Island are suiting up for their favorite sport, Dotcher. It is like a free-for-all dodgeball played on a field strewn with obstacles, traps, and handy items. The game design is similar to Bomberman. Unlike Hudson's blastathons, the characters are not one-hit wonders. As each character absorbs a certain amount of damage, more reckless attacks are possible in Dotchers. There's also no need to duck and hide from your own thrown ball—unless it is deflected back. There are a total of eight characters you can pick from, and each one has its own attributes. Also, this game is multi-player, allowing you to have three friends play with (or against) you as well!

The game is four-player simultaneous with eight characters to choose from.

SURVIVING THE FLAMES...

As you progress through the Metrotech building, it will become apparent that there's more fire than you can stop. Keep moving, but you don't have to go out of your way to stop each little fire. Will you be able to survive?

THE MAJOR FLAMES (BOSS)

At the end of each level there is a particularly hard-to-kill blaze of fire. These generally spread quickly, and they will do a lot of damage. The best way to stop them is with constant suppression (with water, of course).

THE GOOD

The super special attacks are neat, and the ability to regain your health with your "spirit bar" really helps.

THE BAD

The animations of this game are somewhat choppy, and the sounds aren't all that clear.

THE UGLY

Watching the faces in the life meters of the characters. They display queer expressions when hit!

This game is based on a popular manga series in Young Jump, a weekly mag intended for high schoolers, by the same publisher of Jump, the 400-page manga weekly with circulation of six million.

The story revolves around Takada, the head of the high school karate club, and Osaka Soul, the leader of all youth gangs in Osaka (yes, he's the big cat next to the title). The player is treated to several of his adventures. Alas, another manga fighting game is produced, providing a plethora of special techniques and some super special attacks coupled with many kinds of options.

GENESIS

Ando

Ando has several powerful punch techniques and a ground cracker.

Chapter One

The first challenge is by Ando, who is the school boxing club head out for number one. Once he is defeated, Takada goes out on a date where he is beset by Sakuma who, when beaten, explains that the youth gangs of neighboring Kobe are trying to wrest control.

Sakuma

Though he has no projectiles, he is swift and deadly with his kicks.

Chapter Two

After Takada's ordeal with Ando and Sakuma, he is then approached on the street by a strange monk (named Suenaga) who wields deadly prayer beads (!?!). After that battle, Ryuryu and Kouryu (twins who fight almost as if they're one) attack. Once these nuisances are disposed of, the final Boss of Chapter Two (a vicious mass of muscles by the name of Rick Powered [below]) jumps on you.

Suenaga has several rapid hand attacks and is great with his prayer beads as a weapon!

These twins can perform several combo attacks as well as normal ones.

Sotokawa

This suit-'n'-tie man possesses flash kicks, but he's not that hard.

Chapter Three

In this chapter, a letter arrives in Osaka for Takada. It is for a contest to test the might of Takada in order to see if he can be the next Osaka Soul. After dealing with Sotokawa and Kira, you will encounter Jinrai, who pummels you instantly!

Kira

Kira is a master with projectiles and several flash attack abilities.

And Further On...

Don't think we're going to spoil all the fun for you! In later chapters, you will deal with advanced training techniques by the grand master Ko Ryuun (who you'll have to fight). Eventually you take on the Bosses Nakai and Tanaka. Battle Jinrai, a muscle mass who is one tough customer, in the final conflict.

Our guy looks like he made it through MANSION OF HIDDEN SOULS with hardly a scratch. His wired jaw works pretty well and his new dentures are shiny white. The large bald spot on the back of his head doesn't seem to bother him. All of his organs, as far as we know, are original and still in the same places. And we don't hear him complain about the hair that won't stay down or the hands that won't close. Of course, we don't know anything about his mental state.

TRICKMAN TRIES TO MAKE ENDS MEET!

The pressures of married life can leave you financially depleted, and the Trickman is no exception. With Tina out of work and the bills piling up, it has been a long and difficult summer. It has gotten to the point where Terry has had to sell off quite a few of his games for various systems (Oh the horror!) Terry's car, The Boat, needs more gas than you can get from eating 50 fast food burritos! Terry needs gas to get to work, so help out and send in tricks that are current! If the Trickmeister receives tricks for old games, he will sell his stove and cook food over a burning pile of bad tricks in his kitchen! Send new tricks to:

Tricks of the Trade, Sendai

15 GAMES PREVIEWED!!!

Galactic Defenders, Jurassic Park 2, Knights of the Sky, Hagane, Virtual Bart, Pitfall: The Mayan Adventure, Super RBI Baseball, Acme Animation Factory, FIFA Soccer, Contra: Alien Wars, Might Morphin Power Rangers GB, Might Morphin Power Rangers GG, X-Men: Game Master's Legacy, Saturday Night Slam Masters, Ardy Lightfoot

NEW SOFT NEWS

Things have been pretty slow as of late. A lot of companies are preparing for the big Christmas season so they can release all of the great games you've read about in these pages for the past few months.

All the systems have a fairly large amount of games coming out for them. While we're waiting for the mega-machine PS-X, the 3DO, and Jaguar have been increasing their libraries.

The 3DO has a really cool game called Return Fire coming out, and it's massively addictive. The Jaguar has a steady helping of games on the way for its fans. A game called Rayman looks pretty good, and a one-on-one b-ball game based on the movie White Men Can't Jump should be visible soon.

And what's really big news is Samurai Shodown 2! This game features all the old characters, (possibly excluding Tam Tam), and adds new warriors, like an Amazon, and a new swordsman. This could shape up to be the best fighting game ever!

The Samurai Shodown sequel will be out in arcades soon!

Culture Brain

Galactic Defenders

Super Nintendo

Fighting

Culture Brain is whipping up a brand new fighting game for enthusiasts. There are 15 fighters! Most are your average ho-hum martial artists with the standard set of moves, but what brings this game notice is that some of the warriors aren't all that human. You can play as a manticore-like beast, or maybe even a demon wanna-be. There are also super-deformed versions of some of the fighters from Culture Brain's other fighting game.

As the standard, each fighter has a wide variety of death-dealing moves. Many of special kicks or punches, and others have fireballs too. All the fighters are balanced out, so that no one character is too powerful.

Galactic Defenders sports some pretty decent graphics, too. All the warriors are animated pretty well, and they're drawn with crisp detail.

In terms of game play, this one ranks up there with the best.

Galactic Defenders seems like it's going to be one of the better fighting games of the near future. Culture Brain has got a hot one—look for it.

Your matches will take you all over the world. You will be the strongest.

CHARACTER SELECT

Play as any of the 15 deadly characters and fight until the end.

The fighters range from martial artists to demon-like beings with superpowers.

Galactic Defenders has fast-paced action with lots of moves.

Super NES

Action

Right now, Hudson Soft. is considering bringing out Hagane, an action packed ninja adventure game. This game lets you assume the role of a souped-up ninja with loads of special techniques. As you travel from level to level, you will go face to face with the deadliest enemies you can imagine. Killer cyborgs, martial artists, and even some unearthly spirits make Hagane a cool action title.

Hopefully this game will come out soon, as Hagane has some of the most intense action around.

Caught between two statues and a Boss who wants your blood. Ouch!

Off in the distance, a Boss awaits your challenge. Take him out!

The farther you progress, the deadlier the traps become. Can you make it?

Knights of the Sky

Genesis

Simulation

When the first planes were used in battle, the face of war changed forever. Now, with Knights of the Sky, you can relive the battles of those early aerial wars.

In strategic motions, you can direct your planes against the enemy, engage in relentless aerial dogfights, or demolish the enemy troops with bombing runs. Knights of the Sky gives you a number of campaigns ranging in difficulty. You must learn to use your reflexes as well as your mind if you are to make the world safe.

Knights of the Sky utilizes a number of playing fields to give this game a diversified feel. It covers all the aspects of aerial combat. Knights of the Sky is for war fans only.

Engage in dogfights over the ocean with gunfire flying all around you.

Drop your devastating bombs on unsuspecting enemy targets.

Jurassic Park II

Super NES

Action

Return to the awesome island of Jurassic Park. This cart takes up where the last game left off. A corporation has gone to the park to take it over, and you must stop them.

Unlike the first game, this game for the most part deals in side-scrolling action. This time around, you must face off against humans as well as the terrorizing dinosaurs. There are 16 giant levels to bring you back to the paradise lost of Jurassic Park.

If you loved the first JP, and enjoy a good side-scroller, Jurassic Park II will thrill you. Could this be leading into the next movie? Let's hope so, because this game is hot!

Raptors will hunt you down, but this time you are prepared for them.

A vicious T-Rex pursues your moving Jeep. Can you keep her away?

Brave long and treacherous caverns filled with prehistoric dangers.

Pitfall: The Mayan Adventure

Super NES

Action

Pitfall Harry's back in an all-new adventure that sends him into the ruined civilization of the Mayan Indians. Harry must brave wild animals, magic, and deadly traps.

You probably remember the original Atari 2600 game, and the great times you had with it. Believe it or not, the first Pitfall game is hidden inside this cart! It's obvious that he looks 10 times better than the other carts. The pictures below are for the Genesis, but a Super NES version is also on the way. Get set for an adventure!

The temple ruins are fraught with danger. Can you survive the thrills?

Super RBI Baseball

Super NES

Sports

For some hot baseball action, you can play Super RBI Baseball. We were given a sneak peek at this game, and it's a lot of fun.

While it uses similar vantage points to other baseball games, this one has extremely smooth animation, and a lot of nice personal touches to it. For example, your coach will give you hand signals. Some of these are really funny looking. Super RBI Baseball is also a good solid game of baseball, where you can get right into it, and delve into the more intricate features later. You can play through a season, or go against a friend. Super RBI Baseball plays well, has lots of stats, and plenty of features that should please even the most hardened couch potato.

Here it is, the classic batting scene. Note all the features found here.

It's a close call, but the nimble runner is safe on the first base.

Virtual Bart

Super NES

Action

It's just not Bart's day. He's been strapped into a virtual reality machine, and he's stuck assuming the roles of all sorts of wacky beings.

For example, he might turn into a pig. As an oinker, he'll have to escape from a slaughterhouse full of clowns. Or he might have a field day peeing his classmates with tomatoes. Another strange turn of the VR machine sends him behind the wheel in a post-apocalyptic world against the bullies that always taunt him. Bart might even become a dinosaur! Swing around Springfield as Baby Bart too!

Virtual Bart is chock full of Simpson's goodness.

In one of the coolest scenes, Bart goes down a twisting water slide!

Chuck tomatoes at the students, but don't hit the teacher or the officer.

It's Mad Max-type action as Bart must race past those annoying bullies.

SPECIAL FEATURE!

A long time ago...

Super Return of the Jedi is here and it is the best Star Wars game to date! This game features all of the levels in the movie. In different levels, play as any member of the cast! There are even a few levels on Endor where you take on the roll of a cute little Ewok. If you are a fan of the movies, you will find this game exciting and a lot of fun. The graphics, sounds, and game play all combine to make this a truly awesome experience! May The Force be with you!

Super 3-D

On this level, you will control the guns of the Falcon.

On Endor you will zoom around frantically on speeders.

Target the fighters of the Imperial forces with the sights.

Players

Every character from the movie has an extensive part to play in this game.

STAR WARS

RETURN OF THE JEDI

Jaba's Palace

Now you are in the palace of the mighty Jaba. Before facing him, you have to face every last one of his minions.

Beware! This level is dark and scary.

The Boss at Jaba's palace hops around like a frog while spitting out tinier versions of himself.

Rancor Pit

It is time to fight the evil Rancor, but first you must find him! This level is totally dark except for the glow of Luke's saber surrounding him.

Be careful, because there are enemies in the shadows.

The Rancor is huge! In the dark, it is really hard to see what he is doing. Stay alert. There will be little enemies coming from behind.

Inside Barge

Now you must enter the barge and meet the evil Jaba—face to face. You play this level as the princess.

Her spin attack not only looks cool, but is very useful.

Be very careful. You will be attacked from all sides!

Tatooine

As Princess Leia, when dressed as a bounty hunter, run on the hot sand.

If you find a thermal detonator, you can use it to destroy everyone.

When you grab the speed-up icon you move unbelievably fast!

The Boss is a huge robot eye-arm beast. Watch for its lightning.

Power Generator

On the planet's surface you have to destroy the power generator that runs the shield around the Death Star. Run Princess Leia through the levels while fighting more forces of the Empire. In this level, Leia has a blaster that you can use to shoot through blocks where you will find various power-ups.

Death Star

The Death Star is the new, mighty space station which is capable of destroying an entire planet with a single powerful blast! Luke must fight his way through the station in order to reach the final showdown against the deadly Darth Vader. This level is full of enemies coming up through the floor. As well, there are a lot of tricky jumps where you are required to leap from falling platforms very quickly.

Use the slash of the awesome lightsaber to take out the Empire's minion.

Right after you slash these robots, they blow up violently. Watch out!

Always keep your weapon in hand. You never know when you'll need it!

Throne Room

In the infamous Throne Room of the Dark Emperor, you face many dangers. Avoid the cannons and the stormtroopers.

Your jump roll works well here, but be careful not to fall off the platforms.

Get in close and slash the turrets with your lightsaber in order to get by.

You can also use your light-saber to defend against the guns that are all over the level.

Take out as many cannons as you can with your trusty saber. If you don't get them, they could get you!

Ewok Village

Welcome to the Ewoks' village. Although cute, they're deadly. Help them fight the bad guys.

Climb up on the tree village while looking for the exit, and fight off the enemies.

This little guy has a really fast and vicious bow and arrow attack.

This level is really big! It seems that when you fall, you just keep on going.

Although the Ewoks are small, they are extremely deadly. Yet, they need your help stopping the Empire!

SPECIAL FEATURE!

Primal Rage is a graphic buffet, coming soon to an arcade near you. It includes seven characters, all of which are fantasy or mythological creatures, including various dinosaurs, giant apes, and more. Some unique features of this game (other than the incredible stop-motion animation that makes the game look light years ahead of the competition) are its four-button joystick configuration which is employed instead of the standard five or six we're so used to seeing, and the two-punch and two-kick buttons which feature specially mapped "power hits" that allow for easier to manage special moves and combos. Revision of traditional fighting games don't stop with the joystick configuration, though. The one-player game does not end after defeating all the characters. At that point the player is thrown into a shorter sequence, a no-room-for-error second round that's sure to make you kick a few arcade cabinets. The Two-player Mode is reminiscent of the "push-pull" engine most employed in Neo-Geo fighting games. Best of all, this great new fighting game is scheduled to ship in August.

Almost everything about this game is different. From the Character Selection Screen to the conquest of the new Urth. Even the P.C. No animals were hurt in the making of this game". Screen is different! The Primal Rage production team, made up of nearly 30, was organized more like a Hollywood film crew than a typical game design team.

Sauron is what this game was originally intended for—the large yellow Tyrannosaurus Rex with a huge temper. His moves are, for the most part, large and bumbling, but he gets the job done. He really uses his size to his advantage, with such moves as an Earthquake Stomp and the ability to rip with those giant jaws.

Sauron

Chaos

Chaos is a wild-haired gorilla who is human-like in a lot of ways. His attacks use his hands and legs to crush the opponent. He can climb on anyone and his fists and feet are equal in strength. He's not afraid to hop around either, as his leaps can easily reach the top of anyone. His power is almost the same as Blizzard, his "brother."

Blizzard is the "Ryu" of the two gorillas. He doesn't have as many leaping abilities as Chaos does—he prefers to sit back and let his power do the talking. That right hook of his is lethal! He's been known to level buildings on a slow day. His stage is set in the Himalayas, and his powers are mostly freezing moves, with freezing breath and more.

Blizzard

Talon

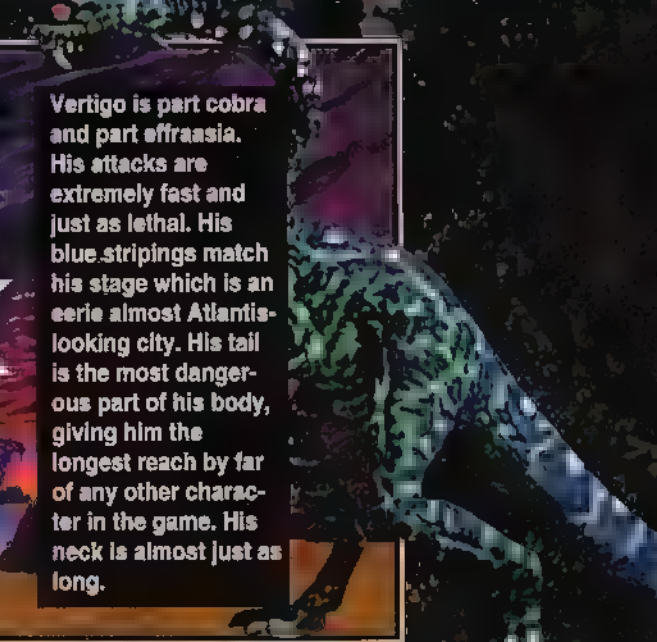

Talon is aptly named, as he likes to claw his way into anyone. He is almost a cross between the ferocity of a tiger and the look and intelligence of a Velociraptor. He can leap from long distances and be at your throat in seconds. He is also very agile and has been known to climb up an opponent to reach the head and throat.

Diablo, the smaller of the T-Rex creatures, has a fiery personality and the moves to match. Mostly we have fire breath and his volcanic stage matches the color scheme. Diablo is primarily a fiery crimson red with streaks of black. The patterns are similar to what many scientists think ancient dinosaurs may have looked like.

Diablo

Vertigo is part cobra and part effraasia. His attacks are extremely fast and just as lethal. His blue stripings match his stage which is an eerie almost Atlantis-looking city. His tail is the most dangerous part of his body, giving him the longest reach by far of any other character in the game. His neck is almost just as long.

Vertigo

The character of Armadon combines elements of a triceratops, ankylosaurus, and stegosaurus, creating a dinosaur that has very dangerous horns, a somewhat long body, and an almost hunchback aura around him that strikes fear into smaller opponents. He also appears to have a strange pair of eyes due to lack of sunlight.

Armadon

The Making of

PRIMAL

Dennis Harper: Producer

Originated the idea of a stop-motion dinosaur fighting game over two years ago. Originally conceived as a showcase for two ferocious T-Rexes, the puppets looked so incredible, they expanded their original idea, and made seven new ones.

Jason Leong: Animator

Had an idea for a revolutionary dinosaur fighting game, at the same time Dennis Harper did, and went into business with him. They were both certain that the stop-motion process had never been attempted on this scale for a video game.

The intense process starts with creating the actual puppet.

A plaster mold is made of the desired shape.

The heart of the puppet is the flexible endo-skeleton.

The skeleton and mold is then injected with whipped latex.

The whipped latex mold is placed in a special oven.

Last of all, the latex puppet is painted by an airbrush artist.

This is the result—some of the best arcade graphics ever!

The game features seven characters with special moves.

The cast includes many strange characters, mostly dinosaurs.

BACK FROM THE GRAVE, ICEMAN IS HERE TO STAY

After many nights of thinking about the Olympics, Iceman realizes that he has a real job to do ... giving you up-to-date news on the latest sports games, with your co-host, The Rookie. Now that Iceman's back, Jacques is pursuing other interests. I guess he can stay around here and give Iceman some challenge on the upcoming games. Yeah right! So put on your reading glasses and see the hottest new sports games that have been reviewed and previewed by EGM's finest sports gurus. Enjoy!

SEGA'S ALL-NEW NFL '95

As I expected, Sega is now releasing another NFL game. Like the other versions, NFL '95 has some great features that will gain sports gamers' attention. The major feature that will change, however, is the visual perspective of the playing field. In the previous version when you start a play you can only see approximately 30 yards of the playing field. When you drop back as the QB, the camera angle will rise and you'll be able to see up to 65 yards down the field, allowing you to view your receivers in motion. While all of this action is happening, the players on the field scale as they move.

When you pass the ball, the camera angle will drop again while the ball is in the air and return to its original angle when your receiver catches the ball. You have to see it to believe it!

There are other features that stand out in this game as well. Create your own players, trade, and even revise the team's depth chart. Other options (free agents, records, injuries, stats, league leaders, instant replay, and many more) are also at your disposal. You can even play with up to four players at the same time. With all of these features you'll need a battery back-up (It's included!). Look for this one to come out kicking soon.

PREVIEWS AND REVIEWS

Out of my way punk! See some real-time action on Sony's National Hockey Night.

Check out the latest preview pics of upcoming games as well as the reviews that Rookie and I have compiled. See if you agree or disagree with us. Here are the games that you'll be seeing in the following pages: Cannondale Cup, Elite Soccer for the Super NES, ESPN Football, ESPN Hockey, GP-1 Rapid Stream, Acme All-Stars, and lastly, Elite Soccer for the Game Boy.

ARENA FOOTBALL ... WELCOME TO THE HOUSE OF PAIN!

Arena Football—football played indoors where the field is smaller but the pain is just as intense. The regulations have been changed a bit to add excitement and fast-paced action. This great new sport has gained popularity across the nation. As a treat, V-Real Interactive will be releasing V-Real Arena Football for the Jaguar. As you can see by the screen shot, the action is taken from the real game. The Jaguar has many capabilities and this one should look great when it is finished.

Team EGM will have more inside pics on this new game soon.

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST

Cannondale, a well-known maker of road and mountain bikes (all handmade in the U.S.) has teamed up with ASC to bringing you the very first bicycle racing game sponsored by a major bicycle company.

Cannondale Cup features the mountain

Pick your bike wisely, because you'll need to pass many obstacles on the tracks.

bikes that Cannondale produces. In this racing game, you will be able to choose from a variety of bikes each varying in road performance aspects like: speed, traction, handling, and so forth. Pick an off-road-type bike to get you through those muddy tracks and don't forget about the all-suspension bike.

All the tracks vary as well. You can start at the bottom and race through the qualifying track and see how you do against the very best riders around. After that you can attack the harder tracks, if you're good enough. Conserve your energy on the hills by putting your head down to decrease air friction. You can either grab or kick the other riders to get ahead of the pack. Hey, it's survival of the fittest out there! That's what this game is all about. You snooze, you lose.

Still having a problem keeping up? Grab someone to conserve your energy.

TOP GEAR 3000 by KEMCO

In this sequel, Top Gear is set far in the future where technology is the basis of winning races. Instead of racing in nearby states, tracks are placed on different planets. As the races continue, you will be able to discover new technology for your vehicle in order to enhance your car's road performance. Options galore! Picture yourself—boldly going where no man has gone before.

GOOOAAAL KICK!

As World Cup Soccer fever rages, the competition to make the best soccer game continues, too. Elite Soccer from Gametek is a cart to look for in the future.

There are so many options you can pick from, such as changing the weather conditions, the referee's style of regulating, the goalie's skills, and whether to play indoor or outdoor, among others.

Shoot it out, and decide which team will advance to the tournament.

ELITE SOCCER

If you want some competition, enter the World Cup Mode and play against the very best in the world. Go through the rounds to see where you stand. Play in existing fields where they show you the size and capacity of the stadium, and where it is taking place.

Elite Soccer may not be as flashy as other soccer games, but it delivers some great features that make it worthy.

Play in the World Cup. See where your team stands after the early rounds.

HAVE A FRIEND?

The exciting part about this game is that you can play against another player instead of the computer. Just hook up another controller, and boom!—you're set. Plus, playing against the computer can get easy at times and the challenge is scratch off. So, get with it and invite a friend over for some real action!

The neat new features are something to look forward to. This is actually an okay game, but the players on the field move like flies! Their movements are too quick to handle. This odd movement kind of takes away from the game play value. Sounds are up to par, but not that overwhelming. This one is alright, but not outstanding.

I agree with Iceman. The players on the field look like flies trying to find food. It was frustrating. I'd rather watch the World Cup than look at flies. Being able to choose from the many options is a plus. The options really change the way the game plays. Cool sequence of the shootout. It may not be great, but it's really an okay game.

SUNDAY NIGHT FEVER!

Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to ESPN Sunday Night NFL! Your commentator, Chris Berman, will guide you through this game, providing you with the latest news of the action on the field. At half-time he will be there (ESPN Sports Center) to give an in-depth look of the current game being played, showing you all the stats and scores.

Check out the field conditions. Change the weather conditions that affect the field.

ESPN Sunday Night NFL looks average, but it does have some originality on its side. First of all, pick from various types of plays as well as audibles on the field. You will have to learn the plays that ESPN has offered to defeat your opponents on the field. Do special running abilities like hurdle, spin, and jump to pass the defenders ahead of you. These

SUPER BASEBALL SIMULATOR 1000 2 by CULTURE BRAIN

If you thought Baseball Simulator 1000 had some of the coolest baseball tricks, wait until you get your hands wet with this. Of course the graphics and sounds have been greatly improved, especially the animations of the players batting and on the field. There are so many tricks to batting and pitching. This sequel is definitely a winner for baseball fans who are looking for an extra twist.

UM ... RRR ... RRRRRRRRRR

WOW! This is excellent! Even though racing games are not my favorite type of sports games, GP-1RS is something that I've been looking forward to for some time now. Thanks, Atlus.

First of all, the variety of bikes to choose from is totally cool. Each bike has different road performance which adds to the challenge for the rider. The specs on the bikes are so realistic, you can't get any closer to the real thing.

Secondly, the racing aspect is the thing to look for. The fast-paced graphics of the tracks never slow down. You can actually feel the pull of your bike as it takes the upcoming sharp turns. The handling of the bike is incredibly smooth. Awesome S-turns and curves! As far as tracks go, you can pick from various countries where they have actual racing tracks. Try racing in each of them to see if you can beat the best lap and time record.

Furthermore, this game enables you to race against a friend where the screen splits and both of you are visible on the track. This is good practice in learning the tracks and knowing when the turns will come up. Or you can race against each other and see who's the fastest racer around. This is one terrific racing game. I never thought I would get stuck on it. This is definitely one to save your money for.

Watch out for the surprising, sharp turns. Try to turn early in these situations.

SPACE CAMP

If you win the Rebel Assault Contest, you'll be flown to Space Camp to begin training as a Rebel Assault Cadet! You'll learn general astronaut training, lasting between three days and one week.

The things that you will experience at Space Camp will open you up to the fun of learning about space travel and aerospace technology. You'll experience what it's like to be weightless, and what it's like to be involved in a real launch.

Experience the rush as a member of shuttle crew or mission control.

Level One is a five-day mission for those who are in grades

7-9. You are divided into two, 10 member teams to discover new technology and study environmental topics.

To experience the feeling of weightlessness, you'll use a simulator like the 1/6th Gravity Chair, and the 5 Degrees of Freedom trainer. In a simulated weightless environment, you'll work on the Zero "G" Wall as a mission specialist. Ever capture a satellite? With Extra-Vehicular Activity, you'll get to witness it all hands-on.

Special I-MAX projection films like The Dream Is Alive, Blue Planet, and

To Fly will teach you more about a mission into space.

When you've learned how it all runs, it's time to get ready for two missions, using critical teamwork elements to successfully launch, dock with a space station, and return to Earth unharmed.

Level II is an eight day mission for grades 10-12, mixing classroom learning and hands-on training. This level has three tracks of study which students may choose from: Space Science, Engineering, and Aerospace.

In the Space Science track, become a payload specialist, conducting experiments on the shuttle and station simulators. SCUBA training will help you conduct experiments in the "microgravity" of the space station.

The Engineering Track lets you go hands-on to conduct EVAs, and perform a number of tasks using the Zero "G" Wall. Learn robotics, optics, engineering fields, and what it takes to accomplish tasks while in space.

The Aerospace Track focuses on the educational requirements needed for a career in aerospace engineering, shuttle command, shuttle pilot, or aviation professional.

Exercises in different Mission Operations and Control Room scenarios will help you become acquainted with the knowledge needed for a career in aerospace.

The Parent & Child program is a three-day mission for ages 7-11 and a parent. In this program, you will learn about the history, present, and future of space flight. Tour NASA facilities, listen to speakers, and experience astronaut simulators.

All three of the above mentioned programs include one thing: the fun of discovering space. No doubt you've seen the shuttle launches on TV, now you can study what allows these to take place, and you can have the pride of knowing what's going on in one of these complicated launches.

At Space Camp, you'll familiarize yourself with the technology and experience to become the world's next astronaut. After experiencing this awesome program, you could prepare for a career in aerospace. The Space Camp program gives you the chance to experience things that you would never get to normally. Space Camp is something you'll remember for a lifetime!

THE GOOD

This game has everything that it takes to be a winner. Everything from play to graphics is awesome.

THE BAD

Some players may think that this title is too cute for them.

THE UGLY

This game is too cool to have an ugly. Even the bad guys are cute!

The Great Circus Mystery is a new game by Capcom that stars Mickey and Minnie. The rest of the cast are also present in this all-star presentation. The world's two most famous mice are on their way to the circus when something goes wrong. As they try to piece together what caused the chaos at the circus, they get started on a journey that is more than they bargained for. As they go through the game they will get different suits that will give them special abilities. You can change suits at any given time during the game to get past certain parts.

Level 1

Something has happened at the circus and Mickey and Minnie are off on an adventure to find out what caused the commotion.

The mid-Boss juggles fire that he throws at you.

In your regular outfit you can stomp on enemies, then pick them up and throw them.

Level 2

Now Mickey is in the jungle and he acquires a new suit that will help him out. It lets him walk on walls and swing on hooks.

Jump on the heads of the snakes to stun them. Then you can climb them.

The Boss of this level is a big monkey. Wait for him to stop rolling then jump on his head.

Level 3

Ride through the mansion shooting pesky ghosts with your cork gun!

In this part of the level you will run up, over, and around obstacles.

If you use your hook on the lamp the whole screen will rotate.

The Vacuum Suit will blow out the candles, then you can step on them.

The Ghost Boss is really easy to beat. Shoot him when he first appears.

Level 4

Much of this level is done under water. Swim from bubble to bubble to avoid losing health.

The Dinosaur Boss will send little creatures after you. Use the cork gun.

Level 5

Now you are in the snow caves. Use the hook to get past the spikes.

The Boss will try to freeze you before he hits you with lightning. Use the vacuum.

SUITS

In the Horsey Suit you can ride and shoot.

In the Safari Suit you can climb and slide.

The Vacuum Suit lets you suck up enemies.

In your regular Suit you can throw enemies.

BEAVIS AND BUTT-HEAD

Beavis and Butt-head are here and they are badder than ever! One afternoon while doing what they do best, watching TV, they see that Gwar is coming to their town. Bound and determined to go to the concert, they decide that if they do lots of cool things Gwar will let them into the concert free. They waste no time getting started, either. At the beginning of the game you decide where to go first by changing the TV channels.

Once you are there you must keep them alive and evade a lot of different enemies. At the Turbo Mall 2000 you can search for change and then play two different sub-games.

When you get to the arcade be sure to try out the sub-games. They're fun!

Search the pay phones for cash. Maybe you'll find a quarter or two.

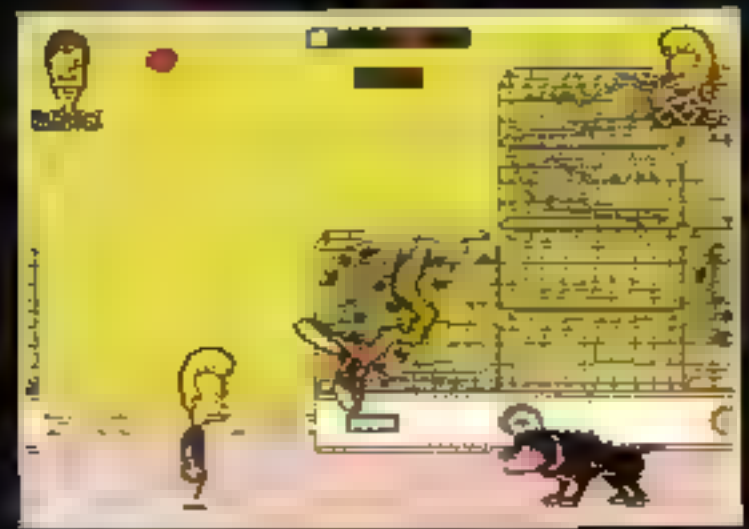

Push Beavis around in a shopping cart while he shoots enemies with grease.

TURBO MALL 2000

When you enter the mall the first challenge you come across is the pet store.

Jump over the dog. You can now grab the bat and do with it what you will.

The snakes at the pet store haven't been fed. Don't get eaten!

Have a little fun by turning around and slapping Beavis!

Watch out for all the guys on skateboards. They move fast!

HIGHLAND HIGH

You are now at school—the very best place to wreak havoc! Watch out for the guy kicking lockers open and the skateboarders.

You can pick up a gun and shoot the enemies that pop up out of nowhere.

Pick a Chicken Fight with these two guys at the end of a level.

After the fight, go back to the house to choose another level.

HOSPITAL

At the hospital Beavis and Butt-head are bound to get into more mischief. Search the vending machines for change.

Jump from lamp to lamp but don't fall onto an operating table.

At the end of this level you have to battle the crazy nurse.

ON THE STREETS

Run around the town doing cool stuff and cause as much trouble as possible.

Here you have to jump from clothesline to clothesline to dodge the mutts!

As if avoiding the enemies weren't enough, you also have to watch out for rakes!

COUCH FISHING!

After every level you can choose to play a level of Couch Fishing. Move your hook around to try to catch things like cheeseburgers and ice cream cones. Just try not to catch the old lady or the dog.

Butt-head pushes Beavis on a gurney. Pick up I.V. bags to get ammo.

They really don't have a clue! Just look at the X-ray!

Use the bat to take out the shopping cart and the big dog.

First the sewer lid flies off and then an alligator comes out to get you.

Remember, when you Couch Fish you must avoid the old lady and the dog.

THE GOOD

Fans of the show will enjoy the chance to play as the popular pair.

THE BAD

This game is full of cheap hits that you just can't avoid.

THE UGLY

Okay, one cheap hit I can deal with, but when one pushes you into another it becomes really annoying.

You will find guides like this that will instruct you on how to control new things like a hang glider.

The game control is very weird. You make Pac-Man move around by shooting things with a slingshot. That draws his attention to it. Or, you press Y and a direction and he will look that way. To help you understand, Pac-Man will teach you in the beginning.

This is the entire Pac-Man world. You can't go everywhere at once, but you will earn passes to move on.

Here we have a truly unique video game. Pac-Man 2 definitely changes the way a normal game is played. The game is played in third-person perspective. You don't actually "control" Pac-Man, instead you guide him through a bunch of different levels. Plus you can even get him to fly a hang glider, ride in a mining cart, and go skateboarding. When Pac-Man is really happy he'll listen to every order given and try to do them to the best of his abilities. But if he is unhappy or sad, he won't do a darn thing you tell him. Once that happens, you must find him some food or something for him to look at that will make him happy. The ghosts are all over the place. However, power pellets are scattered everywhere for you to eat in order to stop the ghosts. There are tons of different animations that Pac-Man will perform. I guarantee you that 98 percent of the animations will make you laugh.

THE NEW ADVENTURES

This evil Ghost witch is behind all the troubles you encounter. She gets really mad every time you defeat the ghosts and tries even harder the next time to totally trip up Pac-Man's plans to save Pac-Land!

The original Pac-Man game that was so popular in 1980 now can be played again in its nostalgic form. Everything remains the same, including graphics, sound effects, and those stupid ghosts.

The original Ms. Pac-Man which came out in 1982, was a mega success as a sequel. It can also be played in its true form, but you have to earn the right to play it by finding the three parts of the cartridge.

This is your item guide. Pac-Man gives a little explanation for everything in your inventory. If you pause for too long, Pac-Man gets mad.

THE GOOD

This game has so many funny animations, you'll laugh until your side hurts or til the ghosties get to you.

THE BAD

You can get frustrated very easily. If Pac gets mad, he won't follow your instructions.

THE UGLY

Watching the poor, hungry alley cat beat the bloody #@*! out Pac-Man for his hot dog.

First things first. Ms. Pac-Man tells you that the baby is still hungry. Go out and find Pac-Baby a bottle and some milk to feed his empty stomach.

Leave Pac-Man's house and walk to the right. You will see a milk bottle that you just can't reach.

Shoot the raven with your slingshot to scare it away. The raven then flies at Pac-Man, scaring him, but also knocking the bottle off for Pac to grab.

After the raven leaves, pick up the bottle and go by the cow. Pac-Man will fill up the bottle and you can return home.

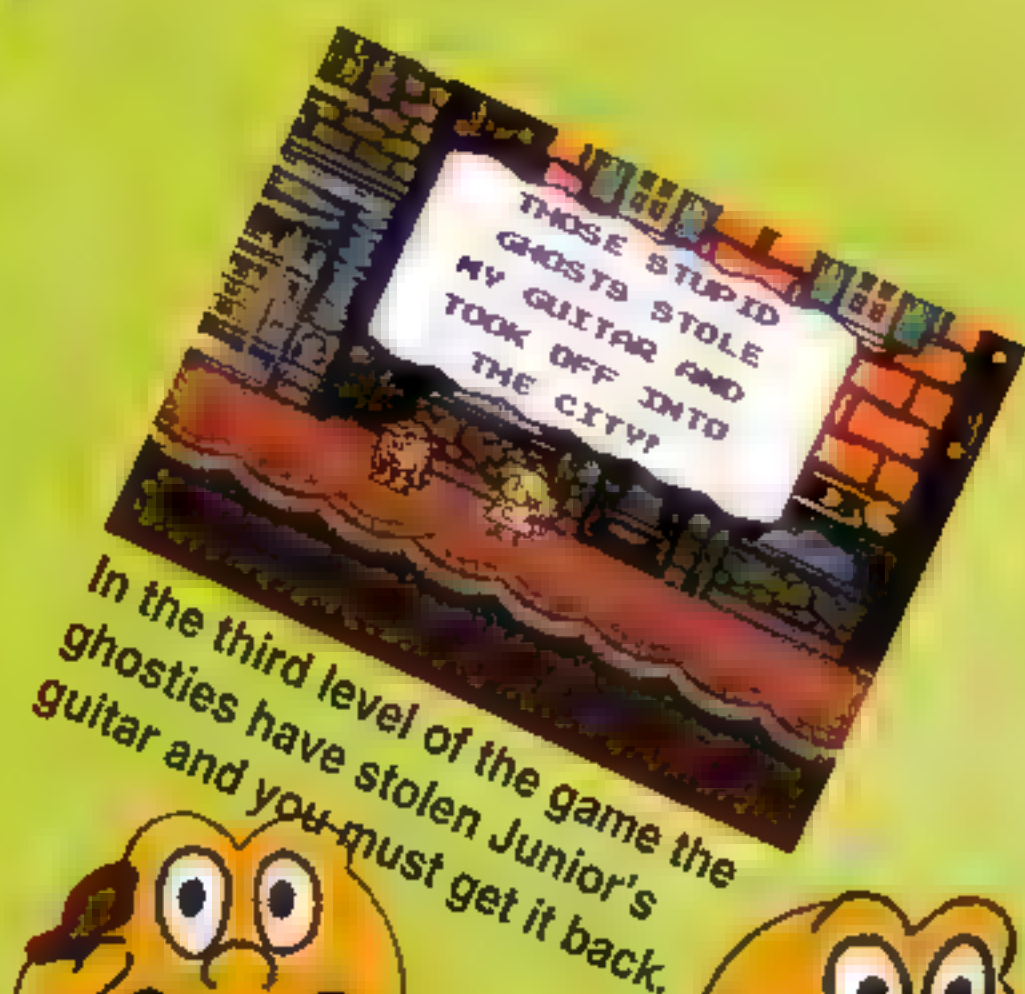

The next thing you must do is to go to the mountain and pick Lucy (Pac-Man, Jr.'s friend) a flower for her birthday.

With the ropeway pass that Ms. Pac-Man gives you, go to the mountain and find Lucy's precious flower.

There will often be ropes you must climb to go elsewhere. Just have Pac-Man look up at the ropes to make him climb.

In the third level of the game the ghosties have stolen Junior's guitar and you must get it back.

If you find this flower on the mountain, you are guaranteed to make Lucy one happy little girl.

Pac-Man is pretty scared of hang gliding. You must see to it that he gets on that glider. If Pac-Man is too scared or depressed, he won't fly. When you get here, make sure he is very happy.

So many ropes to choose from. Some give you items while some make you fall a level.

BUBSY II

THE ORIGINAL BOBCAT

The original Bubsy game was very successful and remains a Nintendo classic today.

In Bubsy the Bobcat's first adventure, Claws Encounters of the Furred Kind, our Bobcat was pitted against every kind of enemy that you could think of! Now Bubsy's back and ready for more action!

TWO-PLAYER FUN!

Two players can team up on this one with a style reminiscent of Sonic 2.

Using the warp loop is a great way to get out of any stage without having to reset all of your record so far.

Bubsy must defeat all the stages in each floor to activate the portal which leads to the floor guardian.

THE GOOD

This game has many in-depth levels as well as bonus levels, adding to the replay value.

THE BAD

Bubsy's life meter could have been a little more accurate than just being a picture of his mug.

THE UGLY

That Bubsy jingle that plays in the beginning! Arrrrgggh!

BUBSY'S BODACIOUS ATTACKS!

STOMP

Stomp on all of your enemies from above!

GLIDE

Use the glide technique if Bubsy falls too fast.

BUBSY RAGE

Bubsy becomes furious after hitting an enemy.

SPONGE GUN

Attack from a distance with a sponge gun!

BONUS GAMES!

FROGS FOR LAUNCH

Launch frogs into the pool below with help from Bubsy's instant launch-o-matic.

IN THE LINE OF FIRE

Help this poor armadillo roll through the truck without getting squashed!

OH, A SHOOTIN' WE WILL GO

Shooting stages have been included as a nice break from the side-scrolling action.

STOCK UP ON THEM ITEMS!

It is important to stock up on items. You never know what you may need during the game!

Many times when a sequel is released to a popular title—whether it be a book, a movie, or a video game—it often fails to recapture the excitement of the original. Bubsy II is not the case. The sequel to our bobcat's Claws Encounters of the Furred Kind, Bubsy continues his adventures on the Super NES with some new tricks, while retaining much of the original fun. Bubsy II is divided up by floors, with many stages and a guardian per floor. Two players can compete in this one in much the same way as Sonic 2. Evil dudes beware, the bobcat is back!

Don't stare too long at the beautiful backgrounds here or else Bubsy will become very impatient.

Although complex levels are a plus to any game, it's also easier to become lost!

Poor Bubsy's going to be sore in the morning! Fortunately the fire pits don't hurt our bobcat.

If you happen to see a lion head, give it a push and it may open up to reveal a secret wall close by!

At the end of the east wing on the first floor, Bubsy must battle a giant pig Boss. Jump on his helmet to defeat him or else he'll try to pin you against the ceiling!

If you remember that there is a way to get to any hidden room or item you see, you'll soon be rewarded!

The only thing that these enemy statues will display is their shame after you defeat the final Boss!

THE DARK SIDE OF THE TOMB

The tomb is filled with traps just to keep you on your toes. One false step, though, and it's bye, bye Bubsy!

Be sure to search everywhere! There are tons of special items and hidden games to be found!

Whoa! That was too close! Take your time or else this might happen to you.

As soon as you see this snake-like statue, jump for it! Otherwise you'll be in for a swim.

R-Type III The Third Lightning is finally coming to the States courtesy of the folks at Jaleco! In this installment of the popular series, you will witness awesome sound effects, intense graphics, and some totally unbelievable Mode 7 scenes! This shooter has everything you could ask for and a whole lot more. Now you can equip your ship with three different types of force pods, giving you more choices than ever before. Each pod is unique and different from one another when powered up. There is also a sound test so you can hear the great sounds without the enemies.

THE GOOD

This is the perfect shooter! The graphics and sounds along with the guns and game play make this great.

THE BAD

This game, like all good shooters, is very challenging and a little hard—maybe a little too hard.

THE UGLY

Since the game plays so well, you have nothing and no one to blame but yourself when you die!

ROUND

These guys come out of the background very quickly. Have a blast ready for them.

SHADOW

CYCLONE

This guy was really tough to beat, until he forgot to look where he was going!

The space station you are flying through uses thrusters to spin.

When the station starts to spin be alert for the huge laser from the middle.

This part is hard but it doesn't last very long. Try to hold out long enough to get through it.

Charge up a hyper blast to hit the Boss when he gets close to you.

When you come up through the floor have a hyper beam ready.

Level 2

There is not much room to move around in this level so keep your movements very precise.

The Boss can only be hit when its eye is open.

The enemies are everywhere and the action is really intense!

Level 3

Use your pods to hit the Boss when it jumps off of the walls.

This level scrolls both horizontally and vertically making it really tough on you.

Going up at this part of the level is challenging and a little tense.

Again the passages are really tight so hold it steady and you'll be okay.

Level 4

The yellow walls come slamming down in front of you very fast.

With all of the explosions, its hard to keep track of what's up.

Don't go too fast or you'll get caught in the yellow doors.

Get through the walls before they shut you out.

This is the hardest part. Learn the pattern of the lasers.

Just keep shooting the Boss—he'll die eventually.

Barbarians from the Aki-Do system have stormed the Deoberon Capital of Trantor via an Interdimensional Vortex, and have seized control of the capital city, Trantor, and the powerful AI Core that defends the peaceful Deoberon world. Unable to destroy the AI intelligence, the dreaded Black Troop Generals removed the Core from its housing and hid the four data banks and the central Core on their own heavily defended wasteland planets. It's up to you, as the pilot of a robot (known only as "Morphing Battle System") to reclaim these data banks and restore the AI Core. Use your extraordinary transforming abilities that allow you to become a Sonic Jet, a Landburner, a Walker, or a Hard Shell to compensate for the varying terrains of the planets, from the frigid Cryston, to the scorching Magmemo. You will combat the Black Troop's vicious guardians with your vast array of rockets, cannons, lasers, and missiles. Even if you are skilled enough to reclaim the data banks, you must return through the dimensional gateway to Trantor, to face the Black Troop Master in the most brutal battle ever!

BATTLE SYSTEMS OF THE MBS

WALKER

The main MBS shape. It's designed for exploration and defense.

SONIC JET

A jet aircraft that allows the MBS to fly to areas that are inaccessible.

LAND BURNER

A low-wheeled car capable of very high speeds, making it hard to control.

HARD SHELL

A defensive weapon, damage is taken through fuel tanks and not shields.

THE GOOD

Cool transformations into the many forms add a lot of variety to this science fiction game.

THE BAD

At times it's hard to make out where an enemy is because of all the polygons.

THE UGLY

Switching between the different Transformation Modes is a bit confusing. It should have been easier.

Lt. Dante, who pilots the mother ship, will drop you off in an enemy-infested area.

When you pause the game, a view screen appears to show how far in the level you are.

Be careful not to let enemies get too close. It's hard to dodge their shots.

Use your targeting system and lock on to an enemy. Fire your missiles when ready.

If you don't destroy an enemy early, they'll gang up on you—then you're in trouble.

LOOK OUT! THERE'S A BIG, BAD, MEAN BOSS AHEAD!

Hey look! There's a big and ugly Boss far off in the distance. You better watch out!

Transform into the Hard Shell Mode and use the super-powerful electrobomb!

Unload all your missiles on the Boss and spray him with all you can muster!

Each character starts with his/her own adventure.

Enter the realm of the Spiral Arm where a mil ennia ago, a dedicated band of five outcast heroes called FireTeam Rouge are all that stand between the evil Umbran empire and its diabolical plans for the Dark Talis of Kangor Thrang --the ultimate weapon of destruction.

The FireTeam Rouge genre deals heavily with the use of the technology derivative of the Talis, a crystal from the Spiral Arm. A gift from the Anari, ancient beings who have seemingly vanished from known space, Talis technology is simple to use, but varied in its almost infinite applications.

Talis technology is seen in everyday life, providing simple services such as lighting a room. However, this technology may be used for the creation of weaponry as well. It is this technology which forged the Dark Talis of Kangor Thrang, a most destructive weapon FTR must protect.

SUPER NES

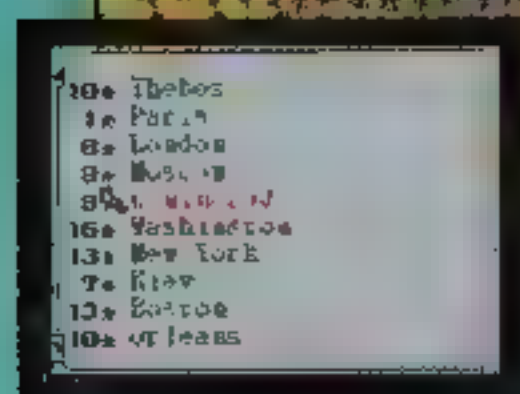

CIVILIZATION

Civilization is a strategy game that puts you in the age of 4,000 B.C. Create a brand new civilization starting from the ground. You are given two sets of settlers and are expected to build an entire empire out of it. That is no easy task! You have a little over 6,000 years to try and accomplish one of three things. World domination: build your empire and destroy the rest of the world. Space Exploration: be the first one to build a spacecraft and successfully land on Alpha Centauri. Stand the test of time. Survive the 6,000 years without being taken over by a possibly more powerful enemy. This game will appease anybody who loves strategy games and will challenge even those who think they can rule

Once you have established a couple cities, have your people make some military units so you can explore your continent (right). Once you have the technology to build ships, use it to explore other continents and get a general idea of your enemies' territories. Land some military units and have them explore the land area of your enemies.

There are tons of different options that you use to control the events of the game. The ones I have pictured are the View Option which allows you to see your city, the Jump Option which allows you to jump to any city you own, and the Production Option which is where you control what items a particular city is producing.

You start out with two settlers. Use them to irrigate land and make your first cities.

The first city you build will be your capital. Keep your capital off the shore and put it on a river to avoid enemy attacks later on.

Attack your enemies when you have enough troops built up and when you can make ships like the frigate or ironclad. Make sure you can last in a war with your enemies or you'll be open for an attack.

THE GOOD

This game sets a standard on how much fun strategy games are to play.

THE BAD

Civilization is so addictive, you won't want to eat, sleep, or do anything which makes you leave the TV.

THE UGLY

Things will get pretty ugly when you lose your job because you're home playing this game.

Your scientists will discover new technologies all the time. The cool part is, you get to choose what new advances they'll discover. You can even steal or trade technologies with your enemies.

BEWARE!

FROM THE CREATORS OF THE 7TH SAGA...

BRAIN LORD

Strange visions crowd my mind...
Reality or Dream?

This place seems to go on forever.
There must be a way out...

The door is locked! I can't get out!
I guess this is it...Do or DIE time!

My father is dead. Everyone thought he was crazy.
I didn't.

He believed that long ago, men rode the skies on the backs of dragons. They were called Dragon Warriors.
Now, all the dragons have vanished. My father spent his lifetime searching for dragons...a life spent in vain. Now, I am the only descendant left. It is up to me to find the missing dragons.

They say only the gifted can unlock the secrets of the many mazes that lie before me. "If you don't go crazy, you'll go insane." Whatever that means. It has been thousands of years since anyone has seen the dragons.
I doubt I will live that long. I have a scrap of paper someone placed in my pack. I wish I knew who left it.
Only one line is written: "Are you a Brain Lord?"

I hope so...

Sonic's back and this time, he has brought along someone new for the trip: Knuckles. Sonic & Knuckles is the latest action game starring our familiar friend. As reported back in the June 1994 issue of EGM Sonic & Knuckles is the add-on cart that plugs in-between the Sonic 3 cartridge and the Genesis. This activates more levels and features that weren't found in the previous cartridge. The most noticeable feature is that you can play as Knuckles the Echidna. What's an Echidna you ask? It's an egg-laying mammal with a shiny coat, slender snout, and a sticky tongue for catching insects. Sounds like a cool mascot to me! Anyway, Sonic & Knuckles features all new levels and new techniques like Knuckles' gliding and wall climbing abilities. Plus, Sonic still has his blistering speed and spin-dash abilities.

There are also new items to interact with throughout the game, such as a manual crank to climb up ledges and flower umbrellas that allow you to float to the ground safely. All this and more add up to yet another exciting adventure in the world of Sonic the Hedgehog. This add-on cartridge should breathe some new life into the Sonic genre.

Mushroom Hill Zone

The adventure begins in the land known as the Mushroom Hill Zone. Here is where Sonic and/or Knuckles can see what the levels have in store for them. Practice Knuckles' high-flyin' gliding technique and his wall-climbing skills. Of course, what Sonic game would be complete without 360 degree loops? The most interesting part of this level is the weather control station that constantly alters the environment from a warm, summer setting to a frosty winter environment. Dare to be different, I guess.

Bounce on enemies in the traditional style to destroy their mech suits.

Knuckles uses the mechanical lift to reach new heights in this large stage.

Robotnik is back! Bash his machine while jumping over the spikes in the columns.

There are many secret passageways that unveil themselves in odd ways.

New Techniques

Not only is Knuckles a cool, new character, but he has some abilities that Sonic could only dream of. Try his wall climb or glide technique to explore new areas.

Sonic blazes through the loop with the style and finesse that made him famous.

THE GOOD

Knuckles is a nice addition to the game and has some cool techniques to break up the monotony.

THE BAD

It's more Sonic. Again.

THE UGLY

Dr. Robotnik. Hasn't this guy had enough by now?

Once you finish the level, jump on the button to set your animal buddies free.

Here's a look at the Flying Battery Zone. Take to the skies for another battle.

One little buddy Sparkster's back again on the Sega Genesis format. In this sequel, Rocket Knight Adventures 2, Sparkster is fighting against lizards instead of pigs. Other than that, this game still has the familiar Sparkster feel to it. You must use your agility and spin attack to plow your way through various stages fighting anything from machinery to monster trees. In order to dominate the game, you must use a combination of quick wit and ingenuity because some of the Mid-Bosses require certain attacks to kill them. Sparkster includes some very good animation and cool-looking enemies. If you were a fan of the original Rocket Knight Adventures, play this sequel and you won't be disappointed. Be warned, it's addictive!

Use the roll attack to defeat charging enemies. It definitely comes in handy when cornered!

ROLL

The sword is the basic attack of Sparkster but can be used in almost any situation!

SWORD

When facing multiple enemies, use this charge attack to plow through a number of nasties.

CHARGE

After picking up the fire icon, you receive the fire sword which is more powerful than the sword.

FIRE SWORD

POWER-UP ICONS!

Sparkster's adventures can be made much easier by finding and utilizing these power-up icons scattered throughout the levels.

Worth 20% of life meter!

Powers up your sword!

Worth a power-up!

10 gems equal one red!

Powers up your rocket!

THE NASTIES

These quick lizards emerge out of rocks and other places, so stay on your toes!

This is the lizard's mean machine. It takes quite a few hits to destroy it!

EGM X-TRA DARE TO COMPARE

A LOOK AT OTHER FORMATS

Take a look at the first Rocket Knight Adventure on the top. Whoa! Deja Vu! Konami kept our little Sparkster looking the same in the sequel. The game even controls the same. Take a look for yourself and see!

STAGE 3 BOSS

In order to kill this Boss, you must use the blanket the little critters are holding for you.

When the Boss spins, he is invincible. You must wait until he's stationary and hit him on his head. When he's hit, he might release power-ups, such as apples, meat, etc. Good luck with this Boss, he's a tough one!

THE GOOD

The game has definite replay value. The graphics and sounds are clean.

THE BAD

What's with the mandatory hits?! I can't stand being hit with vines from every angle!

THE UGLY

Purple slime that sticks to your back! If you try to shake it off, you get more stuck to you! Frustrating!

A worm is hiding in his hole, trying to escape a hungry crow. Wondering if it is safe for him to come out, he sticks his head out. He looks left and right, unaware of a suit falling from the sky. By the time the worm sees the suit coming, it is too late to get out of the way. The suit lands on top of him, completely covering his body. A strange reaction occurs: the worm's flesh turns into dust particles, creating a hole in the worm's body. The hole is the entrance to "Earthworm Jim." The suit has come from a battle in space where Psy-Crow is trying to retrieve a stolen suit. Amidst the chaos, the suit gets lost and falls to Earth. Psy-Crow goes to Earth and sees Jim and the suit, and thus begins the chase.

Level 1-New Junk City

Find these continue icons all around the game. If you touch one, you can continue from that point should you die. So, either find these icons or don't die through the entire game!

Level 1 is really easy to get through. As easy as it is, it does teach you the controls and gives you some basic skills like using your whip to swing around, to climbing up on ledges that are too high for Jim to jump on.

You will find this moosehead in the first level. Use your whip to grab onto his antler, swing up to an unreachable ledge, and find a hidden area chock full of items.

This is the Boss of Level 1. He'll spit fish at you while a magnet drops crates and horns on you. Whip the crates onto the spring to launch them up at your foe.

Earthworm Jim has many different animations when he stands still. They're all hilarious.

Your trusty gun will always be at your side. However, ammunition will not!

Your ammo supplies drop pretty rapidly. There is, fortunately, lots of ammo lying around. Make sure you grab all of it.

Use these pulleys to jump up to the ledge and receive some of your super-powered gun blasts.

You must use superior whipping skills in order to get this column of spikes.

Sometimes, you must use your whip for things other than killing and swinging.

This fire trail is hot on your heels. Run as fast as you can and jump at the top to avoid being licked by the fire.

Take these hives out first because the bees that come out are nasty and can drain your life fast.

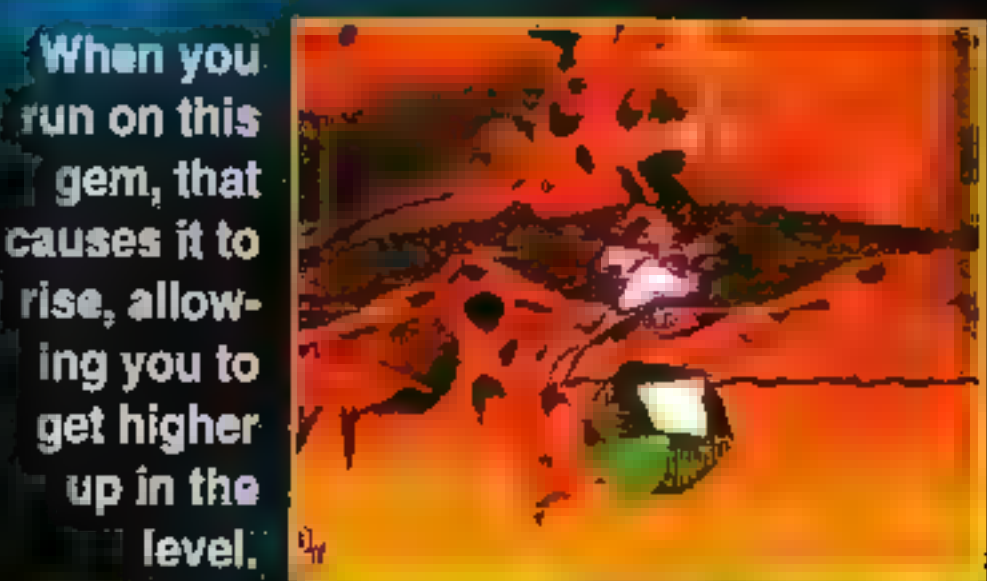

The bonus game pits you against Psy-Crow in a fierce race to get out of the hole first.

Here you must defeat this chicken-thing while falling. If you look in the corner, you'll see that Prof. Monkey Head is watching intently as you fall and fight.

Here you will have to battle this spot monster while bungee diving. The idea is to snap his bungee cord before he snaps yours. Wear his cord down by pushing him into the wall. Beware though, for the spot monster will be doing the same thing.

When you run on this gem, that causes it to rise, allowing you to get higher up in the level.

Using this option, you can float so you don't fall quite as fast and control your fall.

You get to maneuver this small ship in the sea tunnel level. You must drive the ship from one dock to the next. It is a lot tougher than it may sound. If you run into too many walls, your ship will crack and eventually break open.

I really can't say that I mind having to rescue her! But there is one problem, I need your help. So please, pick up your controller and play this great game!

THE GOOD

This game has superb animation, sound, and is just overall fun to play.

THE BAD

The game is only half completed, the bad being I wasn't able to play more of the game.

THE UGLY

Watching poor Jim's head fry when his suit explodes.

This rather attractive ant is Princess What's Her Name. She is the twin sister of Queen Pulsating Bloated Festering Malformed Slug-for-a-but! You must rescue her to save the day. Once you do, she'll be calling you her hero! Is that something to look forward to, or what?!

THE GOOD

The best-looking Genesis game yet, and just about the most fun to play as well!

THE BAD

Not a whole lot of icons to choose from here—you can pick up four, but that's about all you need.

THE UGLY

The onslaught of games half as good as this. If they all looked like this, Nintendo'd be out of business!

ICONS

There are only four power-ups in the game which are all listed below.

Marbles

These are your principle weapons of choice.

Rocket

This one really makes the level easier.

Mouseketeer

This gives you an extra life to utilize.

Star

This will give you one finger of life back.

Mickey Mania is an awesome game that spans 62 years in the life of Mickey Mouse, from Mickey's first incarnation, Steamboat Willie in 1928, to the Pauper of the 1990 short movie The Prince and the Pauper. The animation in this game is so incredible, it has to be seen to be believed! This beats out most Mode 7 games on the market. If you grew up with Mickey, you're in for a treat with this game!

Steamboat Willie

Nov. 18, 1928

As you enter the year 1928, you find yourself on a dock of some kind. You pass by a ship about to set sail, and out of curiosity you peer in to see who the ship's captain is. You are startled to see an earlier incarnation of yourself! Steamboat Willie is startled as well, and runs off. You have to go find him!

Level 2-4 Map

The Mad Doctor

1933

This stage takes place in the world of a mad doctor intent on giving you the closest haircut you've ever had. Pluto has been dognapped as well, and you have to rescue him. However, finding Pluto is not that easy. There are seven sub-levels you must go through before your final confrontation with the evil doctor himself.

Moose Hunters

It's time to do a little moose hunting. Based on the movie, you're in search of Moose Hunter Mickey. However, once you find him, you also happen to find an angry moose. This level really shows off the scaling capabilities of this game, especially as the moose is about to trample all over you. Be sure to watch Pluto for his reactions!

THE GOOD

The flying perspective is just too cool. Neat 3-D effect.

THE BAD

Learning the field is very tough especially when there are too many anti-aircraft missiles.

THE UGLY

Talk about some blood fest! Walk on a corpse and watch the blood flow.

HAPPY LANDINGS

Throughout the battlefield you'll be able to land on certain spots where you can replenish your health and armaments.

Low on your rockets and bullets? Find this landing spot where you can replenish your weapons.

When you think you have suffered enough damage, you need to find the health icon.

A mad dictator named Ivan Retovitz has announced war against the world. He has threatened nuclear destruction to any country trying to stop him. Many of Ivan's war machines have now been strategically placed on the battlefield. You, a well-known Apache ace, have been chosen to go deep within enemy territory to carry out a vital mission that will hopefully turn the tides around. Your first mission involves activating a virus in the enemy's computers in order to hinder the enemy's communication and to slow down the enemy's activities. Later, you'll have to attack certain targets, leveling airports and bunkers, and finally taking out the nuclear missiles. The whole world is counting on you to get rid of the madness. Hurry, you only have 24 hours.

IN THE LINE OF FIRE

In this game you will face many war machines that will give you something to think about. Rely on your radar to pin point where they are located on the field.

This is your primary radar read-out. Use this information to find the safe routes that will lead you to the targets that are shown.

One way to stop them from detecting you is to wipe out their radar system.

The timeless Neo-Geo classic shooter that ruled the arcades (and some wealthy players' homes) is now hitting home on your Genesis! American Sammy is re-developing the 16-Meg smash that, unfortunately, many people have never seen before. Color loss and background music aside, this game has a type of playing perspective that has not been seen since the days of Zaxxon. THE GOOD Players everywhere will get to play this now affordable classic.

THE BAD

You're going to have to wait a little while longer because only a level or two was finished to date.

THE UGLY

I'll never understand why our team only sends one fighter to battle an entire enemy armada.

LEVEL 1

Concentrate your firepower on one of these rotating objects at a time.

These gears will change course right in front of you!

The pattern for this Boss is pretty simple to learn. Avoid its charge when its neck stretches out, its two main guns, and its spread shot.

LEVEL 2

Watch out for fish ambushes waiting for you in the metallic river.

The action really gets intense during the second stage!

During this stage, you'll face a pair of turtles. They will circle around you and shoot at the same time. Other enemies will attack you as well, so be on your toes or thumbs!

Eye of the Beholder

This game is a timeless classic on the PC and now it has been brought home to your Sega CD. Something evil is lurking in the sewers beneath the city of Waterdeep. The lords of Waterdeep have hired four hirelings to seek and destroy the dread looming over the city. Play as the four hirelings and take them through the sewers in order find out what is causing the problems. When you walk into the sewers, you turn around to see the ceiling collapse behind you, thus sealing the entrance. Now the only thing you can do is go through the sewer and hopefully find another way out.

Each level will have a ladder or stairs leading down to the next level. Some levels require passage through a portal, though.

This game has a map feature. Find the map on every level in order to find your way.

There are tons of monsters to fight in this game. The fighting is set up in a real-time situation. You can be attacked by an enemy as you're walking through the maze. It doesn't switch to a fight screen like other RPGs—you fight on your 3-D. Fighting is much easier with a mouse. You will find lots of enemies everywhere and there are tons of different monsters to fight with. They get progressively stronger and have more attacks the farther down in the dungeon you go.

STAR CONTROL II

Take heed all you sci-fi fans, Star Control II is here and there's never been anything quite like it! Combining the incredible fun of an RPG and the all-out action of a shooter, SCII is a blast from beginning to end.

Based on the wildly successful PC version, this one employs a full-motion, silicon graphics rendered intro featuring the ship in the game and the whole story of what happened.

Basically, your mission is to seek out the answer to removing the slave shield put around Earth by the Ur-Quan, an evil race that believes all inferior life forms should either be enslaved or join the ranks of the Ur-Quan forces.

This game is no walk in the park. Major exploration of hundreds of star systems must be searched for minerals and clues leading to the Ur-Quan homeworld. Alien races that you stumble upon will often help out, but others aren't exactly friendly neighbors.

Loaded with actual voices, incredible music, and a story that will take weeks to solve adds up to one heck of a winner. This game is exactly what the 3DO needed and Crystal Dynamics came through in a big way. You don't want to miss the adventure of a lifetime.

The Alien Races

Throughout the game, you will encounter many alien races, some friendly, some hostile. The races shown are just a small portion of the total number you'll meet. Remember to speak nicely and watch out behind you at all times.

Arilou

The Arilou are eager to help out humans.

Druuge

Race of traders; lives only for profit.

Ilwrath

Can't be befriended. Hates humans!

Melnorme

Have useful info on biological life forms.

Mycon

Feel they must cleanse the universe.

Orz

The Orz race speak in confusing riddles.

Pkunk

Spiritual birds related to the Yehat.

Shofixti

Mean little rodents who love war!

Spathi

Cowardly but good allies.

Supox

A good source for getting information.

Syreen

Related to humans in almost every way.

Umgah

They're under control of the Ur-Quan.

Utwig

They're intelligent forms of humans.

Vux

Feel humans are ugly and hate them.

Yehat

Has a queen who hates humans.

Zoq-Fot-Pik

Three species living in harmony.

Super Melee Combat

To break up the tension of the Normal Game, there's the Super Melee Mode. Here, one or two players get to fly the ships that the alien races possess during the Normal Game. With 25 ships at your disposal, this mode can be played forever! As an added bonus, you get to utilize all the special attacks that each ship has.

At the Selection Screen, each team can choose a fleet of 12 ships for battle. There are two windows on the right side of the combat screen that show the status of your crew, which act as hit points, and a power meter which shows the battery charge of the ship. Simply fly around and try to blast each other while avoiding pesky planets and asteroids that get in your way.

At the Selection Screen, choose your fleet of 12 ships to engage in battle.

In the Combat Screen, you fly around and try to blast your enemy with heavy weaponry.

Normal Game

The Normal Game is the RPG section where you must try to free the Earth from its slave shield put there by the Ur-Quan forces. Piloting a Precursor starship, you must seek out allies who wish to aid you on your quest. Of course, there are other races completely faithful to the Ur-Quan and will resist you. You'll explore hundreds of star systems in search of minerals, life forms, and information needed to defeat the Ur-Quan hierarchy.

At the Starbase

At the Starbase, you can unload minerals in exchange for credits to outfit your starship with stronger weaponry.

On the Surface

The surface is where you'll mine for minerals to lug back to the Starbase. When you enter a star system, you can scan the planet and get information such as seismic activity and scan for mineral, energy, or biological life. You can then land on the surface and rake up the riches.

Encountering Races

It is inevitable that you meet alien life forms in space. Each race has a unique story and can either be allied with you or try to blow you out of the stars, depending on how you talk to them. Some races, like the Melnorme, are very helpful at giving information in exchange for alien life forms you pick up from the surface. Be a good negotiator and you might just succeed.

Every time you encounter a race, you take part in a series of question and answers. Say the wrong words and you could be eating space dust.

Solve Mysteries

There are many little twists and turns in the plot to keep you involved through your entire trek. Mysteries such as the Rainbow Worlds, the Spathi slave shielding, and the fearsome Dnyarrl race are just a small part of what you'll come up against.

Hyperspace

Using Hyperspace is the only way to get around the galaxy. Use the StarMap to locate a star system you wish to explore. Out in Hyperspace, you will run into the many life forms and often battles ensue when you enter unknown territory. Travelling in Hyperspace uses a lot of fuel.

Use the Star Map to locate new alien worlds and travel among the stars at high speeds.

In Hyperspace, the skies are a bright orange. They are green in Quaspace.

THE GOOD

What isn't? The plot is fantastic, the music is awesome, and the game is simply too much fun!

THE BAD

Um ... okay, the voices of some of the aliens are a little difficult to understand.

THE UGLY

The entire Pkunk race looks like distant relatives of Toucan Sam. How about some Froot Loops?

OOHHH! IT'S SO SCARY!

HOW TO FIGHT

To survive the game, you must know how to fight. Hold down the A button and press in any direction on the control pad. Press Down or Up for kicks. Press Right for a right cross and Left for an uppercut.

Find a key to open certain chests around the house.

Read a letter to find out more about what's ahead.

Push this chest over a trap door to avoid the monster.

Watch out! Don't get cornered by an attacking monster.

If you die, the monster will drag your body to the dungeon.

THE GOOD

THE BAD

The fighting sequences need to be refined a little because the controls lag.

THE UGLY

The game is a great horror story. Some players may even get a few chills running up their spine.

A private detective, hired by an antique dealer. His job is to make a list of Derceto's valuables in the house.

Derceto, with its steeply angled roof and sinister appearance, guards in its basement the secrets of Astarte, the goddess of fertility to whom the house was dedicated. The owner of this mysterious building, Jeremy Hartwood, died a few days ago. The police report concluded that he had taken his own life. Derceto is now empty. Rumors abound of a curse or of an evil power dwelling within its walls. For some days now a cloud of doubt has hung over your mind. What are those lights inside the house at nightfall? What could account for the eerie noises? Why did Jeremy commit suicide? And what compels you toward the house? What is Derceto's secret?

THE GOOD

This game has incredible graphics and smooth animation which make it a joy to play!

THE BAD

By bouncing off your tail, you are vulnerable to enemy attacks. Watch out when you do this.

THE UGLY

I just wish it was more complete! There is a lot to be added, so I'm looking forward to seeing more!

Bleah! That isn't nice! Use your tongue to lash out against this guy.

In the Sci-Fi Zone, jump and then use your tail to get the firefly power-up!

By crawling walls in the Cartoon Zone, you can get to places faster!

Climb underneath this electricity beam to get past it in the Sci-Fi Zone.

When you are on the wall, spin around to use your tail as a whip on your foes.

Watch out for shooting aliens! Take them out with your tail whip.

The Kung Fu Stage will be filled with characters such as this enemy minion.

Are you tired of the same old 16-Bit characters? Let Gex, the wise-cracking 3-D gecko, crack you up with his twisted sense of humor! With the digitized voice of Dana Gould (headliner of HBO and Showtime comedy specials) teamed up with comedy writer Rob Cohen, this game will be filled with hilarious one-liners! Gex's movements are superb with over 450 frames of animation! He uses his suction cup paws to grab onto walls and scramble about. Gex's main attacks are his tongue lash and thrashing tail. When he gets firefly power-ups, he can throw fireballs, iceballs, and electricity!

Expect 50 enemies, 100 interactive objects, six unique worlds, six Bosses, 24 levels, plus secret bonus levels! This gecko is nobody's stuffed animal!

From the box office comes the most explosive video game to appear for the 3DO! Demolition Man gives you the chance to play as Detective John Spartan. As the most dangerous cop in the late 20th century, you must track down the most notorious criminal of all. Repel down an abandoned building and take on Simon Phoenix's men. Then make your way through all the doors and corridors on your way toward the evil villain himself. Demolition Man comes complete with footage taken directly from the movie, plus some really cool computer-rendered images not in the film!

THE GOOD

This game is loaded with awesome graphics as well as some original computer-rendered images.

THE BAD

Controlling the targeting sight is kind of difficult. It might have been better with a mouse.

THE UGLY

I think the game could have been better without the close-ups of Wesley Snipes' ugly mug.

Enemies will sometimes throw hand grenades at you. Shoot them as soon as you can.

These guys will do whatever it takes to kill you. You'll be attacked from every direction, so watch out and nail anything that moves.

Be careful when you first land on top of the building. There are gangs of Phoenix's men hiding out behind crates and doors.

There are times when enemies will sneak up real close on you. Blow their big, fat heads away!

BATTLE IT OUT WITH SIMON PHOENIX

Get far enough and you will enter a side-scrolling stage where you must fight the evil Simon Phoenix. May the best man win.

STATUS SCREEN

Players must always keep an eye on the Status Screen located at the bottom of the main screen. Using this can help you win the game.

DIMO'S QUEST

THE GOOD

This has got to be one of the most addictive puzzle games I've ever played! Excellent game!

THE BAD

The game seems to be suited more toward the younger age. Older players may not enjoy it.

THE UGLY

The game falls a tad short on manners. After you finish a level Dimo lets loose with a disgusting belch!

Dimo's Quest is a new puzzle game coming your way for the CD-i! At first glance, the game seems to be directed more at the younger age group. That doesn't mean the puzzles you're going to encounter are a piece of cake though! Join Dimo on his quest to grab as many pieces of candy as possible throughout each level of mayhem and madness! Each level has a goal you must reach before you can progress through the game. In order to reach the exit, you must figure out the many mazes and puzzles within each level. The game has excellent graphics, vibrant colors, plus the music and sound effects are done to perfection on the CD-i! Dimo's Quest is very addictive to play. At the same time, it teaches the little ones many different skills, such as identifying numbers and colors, reading, and most of all, major motor skills! Remember, just because it's educational, doesn't mean it can't be fun!

PUZZLE PIECES!

Candy and sweets aren't the only things you'll be searching for in Dimo's Quest. Here's a sneak peek at some of the cool items. Check it out!

Go all the way to the upper right, and grab the ice boots, so you can flip the two switches above the top of the ice. Cruise all the way over to the left side and hold on to your shorts when you ride the arrows! Now you're at the exit. The only problem is: can you figure out how to get to it?

The very popular TV game show Jeopardy! will soon be making its way over to the CD-i! First of all, whether you're a fan of the TV show or not, Jeopardy! is so much fun, you'll forget how educational the game can actually be. The game itself was done very well. Instead of wasting the CD-i's capabilities on a bunch of fancy screen shots of glitzy graphics, the emphasis was placed on using the memory for tons of different categories which means the game has excellent replay value. With the ability to have four people playing at once, Jeopardy! has my vote for being the best family game out yet for the CD-i.

THE GOOD

Most games with this type of theme are more work than they are fun due to all the typing. Not this time!

THE BAD

You should be able to see a little more of Alex, and maybe some commercials in-between rounds.

THE UGLY

The ugliest thing about Jeopardy! is the control. The cursor seems to drag a lot when playing.

A LOOK AT OTHER FORMATS...

On the top is a picture from the Super NES version of Jeopardy!, and the bottom is a picture of the CD-i version. The Super NES shows still-shots of Alex Trebek, while the CD-i has real live footage of the big man himself.

PLAYER SELECTION

At the Player Selection Screen, you can choose between one to four players.

When picking names, you can choose team names and even nicknames!

Alex will refer to you by your name throughout the game. Cool!

CATEGORIES

Because of the huge amount of memory that the CD-i can handle, Jeopardy! is loaded with different categories to choose from!

You can place a wager on the Daily Double question, considering you have the money to back it up.

Choose whichever category you're most familiar with, and receive money for each correct answer.

When you reach the harder categories, some of the questions can be near impossible to answer!

This game can be enjoyed by the whole family, and all of the questions are current and up-to-date.

If you make it past rounds one and two, you will be able to enter the Final Jeopardy round. Good luck!

Instead of typing in the whole word, you can scan from a list of possibilities when you get the first couple of letters in.

YOGI IN YOGI BEAR'S GOLDRUSH

THE GOOD

There are so many places you can find where hidden items are located... it's a quest for treasure!

THE BAD

The jumping of Yogi Bear is quite frustrating at first. It will take time to get used to it.

THE UGLY

I always wondered how a little mushroom could injure a character like Yogi. Please, meaner enemies!

Here comes YOGI!!! The hilarious cartoon character now stars in his own video game for the Game Boy.

Like his adventures in the cartoon series, he runs around picking up picnic baskets and other interesting objects. Of course he gets into some trouble throughout the game and can't really rely on his friends to get him out of it. In this game he has his own way, no Ranger Smith to worry about. The main mission of this game is to collect as many items on the way as you can to increase your bonus points. Bosses are there as well to stop your raiding. At the very last stage of the game you'll know why you've been going through the dangerous levels, avoiding the menacing enemies all the way. It's worth it!

THE ART OF JUMPING

Yogi Bear's jumping ability can get tricky at times. If you feel that you have to jump to a higher level, press the jump button longer to maximize your jumping ability. Press it a bit longer and you can double jump off a platform. This takes time but it will eventually be natural to you. Don't be scared to jump on monsters.

COUNTLESS ENEMIES

HELPFUL ICONS

Don't worry! There will be more items you can pick up to help you through the game.

EXTRA LIFE

Find this icon to increase your number of lives.

BONUS POINTS

These are scattered throughout the game.

HEALTH

In case you're feeling a bit drowsy, pick up this icon.

Watch out for obstacles ahead of you. Take your time throughout the game.

Later on in the stages jump on platforms like this to find hidden items above you.

BLUES BROTHERS

Jukebox Adventure

The Blues Brothers are back in another adventure dealing with music. Jake and Elwood have their hands full with this one as they search out the jukeboxes in order to complete the levels. It's not as easy as it sounds. They have to confront enemies from below and above. Using records as their weapons, they have a chance to destroy these irritating foes. Look out for traps and falling rocks. Find hidden items, like the hourglass, health hearts, and others that will get the Blues Brothers through the game. Hey, rock 'n' roll is here to stay!

JAKE AND ELWOOD

The Blues Brothers are here to stay! Play as Jake or Elwood, but if you're having problems passing the stages, why not play both characters so you can use all of the lives?

PICK UP USEFUL ICONS ON THE WAY

Throughout the levels and stages, you'll be able to find items that will be useful on your quest. Some you have to find above and in hidden areas. Good luck in finding them!

EXTRA HEALTH

Replenish your health by finding the Heart icon.

HOURGLASS

Running out of time? Find this to increase your time.

POWER-UP!

I'm gonna pump you up! Find this icon, and really give your enemies a big-time scare. As you achieve this power-up, you will notice that

RECORDS

These are your weapons. Use them to survive.

MUSIC NOTE

Find these notes and in the end you'll be rewarded.

you've gained a little weight. Hey, this is the way to go. This power-up enables you to jump higher than normal, meaning you can avoid all of those troublesome enemies and obstacles on the way.

THE GOOD

The ability to play as both characters is a riot. Too funny!

THE BAD

It is quite annoying when you get hit by enemies and you can't control yourself.

THE UGLY

Are records that sharp that they can get rid of enemies? Hmmm...

Jump on the mushrooms to find hidden items hanging above you.

Duck to avoid the spiky balls. Don't take too much time, though.

Throw your records you have collected at your enemies.

You will have to find the jukeboxes in every level to exit the current stage.

It's time you finally did something about those monsters under your bed.

You're not a helpless kid anymore. You've grown up and you've got Slayer,™ the first ADVANCED DUNGEONS & DRAGONS® game on 3DO.

Now you're an AD&D® game hero armed with weapons and magic, exploring dungeons filled with the deadly monsters of your nightmares.

Hack and slash away at these vile creatures, avoid treacherous traps and solve mind-bending puzzles.

The randomized dungeon generator can create over 4 billion different dungeons.

Which means a new monster hunt every time you play!

Because it's designed for play on 3DO, Slayer gives you the most awesome graphics and animation you've ever seen. Plus a first-person perspective that lets you look up, down and all around.

It's virtually real!

Slayer. It's time you made those monsters look under their beds!

TO ORDER: Visit your retailer or call 1-800-245-4525 with Visa or MasterCard (U.S. & Canada only).

The Wristwatch Meets Telecommunications

Step aside, Dick Tracy! Your days of wristwatch communicator exclusivity are numbered. Unveiled for the first time at the Summer CES, the Telewatch from MicroTalk Technologies is a wrist-worn cordless telephone and wristwatch all in one.

features often not found on even full-sized cordless phones, including alphanumeric memory speed dial, a "hold" function, a scrambler circuit for excellent electronic privacy, and an intercom feature that allows you to communicate directly with other Telewatch users.

Like a cordless phone, the Telewatch range is limited. It is intended only for home or office use.

However, MicroTalk Technologies is presently working on a cellular version that would virtually free up the user to phone from almost any location.

With the days of the Dick Tracy wristwatch communicator already upon us, can the Maxwell Smart ShoePhone be far behind?

Harnessing the very latest in advanced miniaturization technologies, the Telewatch measures a mere 2.2 x 1.6 inches, and only slightly more than 1/4 inch in depth.

But in spite of its size, the Telewatch includes several Bike resistance changes with new terrain and interactive steering allows the rider to dodge any unexpected obstacles.

The second title, Program Manager, is a traditional Lifecycle trainer program. It allows exercisers to retain workout information, track progress over time, and obtain fitness goals.

With the Life Fitness Exertainment System, the drudgery and boredom of a regular workout routine are gone. Each race is an exciting new challenge, filled with different surprises along the way.

System caught the eye of exercise aficionados and video game enthusiasts alike.

Plugging in to your Super NES, the system includes the Lifecycle 3500X aerobic trainer and two software titles.

The first title, Mountain Bike Rally is a knock-down, drag-out, in-your-face road race.

Players can choose to ride as one of a host of shady characters, including California Jack, Mystery Rider, and Raging Beast to maneuver through road bumps, oil slicks, and other Nintendo fully intends to release new games for the Exertainment System on an ongoing basis. And Life Fitness plans to release a whole line of fitness equipment compatible with the Super NES including a Life Fitness treadmill and a Lifestep stairclimber.

And due up sometime soon: pedal-powered Pac-Man for the Exertainment System.

new interactive Batter Up.

Batter Up is the first-ever interactive video baseball bat. Compatible with both the Sega Genesis and the Super NES, Batter Up works with all baseball games designed for either system. From Nintendo's Ken Griffey, Jr. Presents to Sega's World Series, get ready to step up to the plate and swing for the stands.

Made by the makers of last year's TeeV Golf, Batter Up is a foam-covered plastic bat that actually lets you swing at the video pitch. Timing is the key as your cut must turn the plate at the moment the pitch crosses it. All offensive moves are controlled with the bat.

Batter Up is available in both standard and wireless versions. The

New Phonecard Makes Cents

Say goodbye to those days of pumping quarters into payphones; TLC's PhoneCash is the calling card anyone can get.

PhoneCash is an innovative, new calling card service. The card works like any other calling card—callers dial an 800 number and a PIN—but with one slight difference; the PhoneCash card is already pre-paid.

That's right. Buyers can purchase PhoneCash for $5, $10, or $25 at convenience stores and other retail outlets. As the card is used, a computer voice will tell the user how much time remains on that particular card. When that card is spent, callers simply need to purchase another.

The beauty of the PhoneCash card is not only does it eliminate the need for quarters at a payphone, but it can eliminate that nasty end-of-the-month phone bill, because it allows you to better budget your phone time.

Rare Football Card Discovered

This football card is considered by experts to be the last one of its kind still in existence. In a series of bizarre mishaps during the 1970s, office fires and natural disasters destroyed what was thought to be all of this limited edition series. Produced by the now-defunct Swill Cards, the card highlights the illustrious career of gridiron legend and Beat poet, Frank Kurtz. Sotheby's of New York estimates the actual worth of the card to be somewhere in the neighborhood of $20,000.

1953 Pittsburgh Bulldog

Ht: 5'8 Wt: 290 lbs Born: 9/12/28 School: Slippery Rock

The first player ever to gain over 1,000 yards rushing and passing in the same season, many experts hailed Kurtz as the first great fullback of the modern era. Nicknamed "The Cannonball" for his fierce running style, the rugged Kurtz once broke seven helmets (including three of his own) in one game!

Kurtz amassed 8,875 yards during his brilliant five-year career which many say was cut short by his fondness for genuine Kentucky Sourmash.

At the peak of his playing days, "The Cannonball" was feared by not only the opponents, but also by the opposing team fans. His police record is peppered with incidents of assault against Bulldog fans.

Frank's snafu in a 1948 game against the Hackensack Steamboat, when he ran 98 yards—the wrong way—for a touchdown still ranks in highlight reels as one of the greatest sports fubs of all time.

The Next Generation: The Adventure Lives On...

Spectrum-Holobyte to Release New Title for the PC CD-ROM

Has the cancellation of The Next Generation left you catatonic? Do you find yourself watching the re-runs and salivating for more? Does your overzealous anticipation for the Star Trek Generations movie throw you to a sweat-drenching frenzy?

Well Trekkers, if you answered yes to any one of these three questions, then take heart. Help is close at hand with Star Trek: The Next Generation A Final Unity, a brand new CD-ROM adventure for the PC.

The game is true to the look and the feel of the show. With all eight of the show's principal actors lending their actual voices to the CD-ROM, "A Final Unity" delivers to game players the personal experience of a genuine Star Trek voyage.

The story is epic in the grand tradition of graphic adventures, incorporating elements of a sophisticated space-flight simulation. Players embark on various missions in the name of the Federation and find themselves trapped in the middle of an unfolding mystery with the Enterprise crew.

Within this intergalactic adventure, players must maneuver the Enterprise within a 3-D tactical space, beam down Away Teams to investigate alien planets, explore the many hundreds of stars that lie within known space, and employ the vast resources of the U.S.S. Enterprise to meet the challenges that lie ahead.

With seven of the main characters to choose from, players must decide which crew member is best suited to tackle each and every given situation.

A Final Unity is the latest title from Spectrum-Holobyte, the folks who earlier beamed home Star Trek: The Next Generation Futures Past for the Super NES.

In addition, Spectrum-Holobyte has recently inked a deal with Paramount Pictures, allowing them the rights to develop new games based on the highly anticipated Star Trek Generations movie due out in November.

In the meantime, Star Trek enthusiasts will want to whet their appetite for adventure by checking out A Final Unity for the PC CD-ROM. Available in October, look for it to move at Warp Factor 8 off the shelves of your local game dealer.

From Coast to Coast SuperTour '94 Delivers

Building on the unprecedented success of SuperTour '93, this year's EGM/HERO SuperTour looks to be an even greater success.

With over 20 stops nationwide, SuperTour '94 will hit mega malls and comic book conventions in almost every major metropolitan area, giving kids everywhere a taste of the action.

Comic fans love the SuperTour for the chance to meet some of the hottest artists working on their favorite comic books. Image Comics, as the sole comics sponsor of SuperTour '94, has brought onboard a slew of fantastic artists and characters to make guest appearances at each and every stop.

Video gamers love the SuperTour for the opportunity to try out some of the coolest new games and systems before anyone else does.

The second annual SuperTour features some of the best new video games like Charles Barkley Shut Up and Jam!, Claymates, Mega Turrican, and John Madden Football.

Gamers can check out first-hand new systems like the Atari Jaguar and the Panasonic REAL 3DO, as well as exciting new products like the ASCII Super Controllers and the Interactor virtual reality vest from Aura Systems.

On top of all that, SuperTour '94 offers plenty of excitement in the way of contests, competitions, and giveaways with great prizes like an Atari Jaguar and a Tales from the Crypt pinball machine from Data East. Everyone walks away from the SuperTour a winner.

SuperTour '94 grinds to a close very soon with a final stop September 9-11 at the Southcenter Mall in Seattle, WA. But don't worry too much if you missed the bus this year; SuperTour '95 is right around the corner.

A special thanks to ASCIIWARE, Captron G&G, Electronics Boutique, Software Etc., The Wherehouse, and the following SuperTour sponsors:

SUPER LAST MINUTE UPDATE!!

PLAY AS AKUMA!

YES!! It's true!
You CAN play as the most fearsome Boss character ever created! Follow the instructions to the right, and be ready to amaze your friends at the arcades!

Don't get too confident, though, because

Akuma's power is toned down to make matches fair. For example, Akuma can only throw one Air Fireball instead of two, and all damage ratios are weak. Two players can pick Akuma using this trick as well! Look for the new special Akuma ending, too!

This Super Trick comes directly from Steve Warwick of Los Angeles, CA. Many thanks, Steve!

INSTRUCTIONS

The first step to Akuma's trick starts with a machine set on Free Speed Select. You must select Speed 3 with the Fierce button when your character's cursor is on Ryu (player one or two). Once you press Fierce to select the speed, pause two seconds on Ryu. Move directly to T. Hawk and pause two seconds. Move to Guile and pause two seconds. Move to Cammy by passing through Dhalsim. Pause for two seconds again. Move directly to Ken, then up to Ryu, where you pause for two seconds one last time. Then press all three punch buttons and your Start button (1P for player one, 2P for player two) at the same time. Akuma will replace Ryu as your character selection!

CONTROL HIS KILLER ATTACKS!!

3DO UPGRADED TO 64-BIT IN 1995!

EGM has learned from its sources that 3DO will be upgrading its current REAL system to 64-Bits in late 1995.

This upgrade will make the 3DO a full-blown 64-Bit machine. Not only will it have specifications vastly superior to those of the current 32-Bit system, but it will also be significantly better than those of the highly touted Sony PlayStation!

More specifically, besides going from 32-Bits to 64-Bits of power, the clock speed will be bumped up to the pentium range—68 MHz. In addition, the systems bus bandwidth will be an unbelievable 400 Mb per second wide. This, it should be known, is three times greater than the current spec being talked about for Sony's PlayStation. Another bonus will be the fact that the current add-on MPEG-1 cart may be built in. When the MPEG-2 standard is finally agreed on, the new system will be ready for it via another optional plug-in cart. One of the big specs, being talked about by Sony and Sega (Saturn), is the number of texture-mapped polygons that can be rendered per second. The new 64-Bit 3DO will be able to approach and hit the magical 250,000 number. Ancillary specs include 100,000,000 pixels per second, 150,000 triangles per second, and texture mapping done in hardware rather than software. All system specs are preliminary at best and none have been confirmed by 3DO.

Owners of current 3DO's, or those players who plan to buy the present machine, will not have to worry about any type of hardware incompatibility as everything discussed here will be built into an upgrade cartridge that will plug into the side of the current machine! This cart, sources indicate, could be as inexpensive as $100, but analysts point out that it could go as high as $250.

While some sources indicate that 3DO will be bringing out a whole new machine, people inside 3DO are indicating that this upgrade will only be done via the add on cartridge.

When we contacted the 3DO company for comment, Bob Faber, for the record, could only state that they could neither confirm nor deny any of the above information.

Other officials at 3DO stated that a formal announcement regarding any possible upgrade will be made within the next two months.

These officials almost acknowledged the plug-in module upgrade concept when they told us: "When we think about ways of upgrading capabilities in the system, we think about things in the fashion of a digital video module. And when you get it [the expansion module] this allows you to use software that allows you to use that capability. You know, so that it becomes just another feature of the system. It is almost the same as adding a memory card, some of the software can take advantage of it and when you buy the card you can use that feature."

For the record Bob Faber did say: "If you're a gamer and you really care about the very best gaming experience then 3DO today is a very safe purchase for you. We know that 3DO is the best system today and the 3DO system that you buy today will continue to be the best one tomorrow."

He went on further to say: "It is a fair speculation that 3DO is always looking at new technologies and we intend to respond appropriately whenever our competition decides they are going to catch up to where we are today."

"If you're a gamer ... then 3DO today is a very safe purchase for you ... 3DO is the best system today and the 3DO system that you buy today will continue to be the best one tomorrow."

— Bob Faber
3DO

Some pretty heavy words here. Of course we all will have to wait a couple of months to really see what 3DO is planning for 1995, but for now the main point that 3DO is trying to make is that, no matter what happens in the future, they never will make their older game system obsolete. More next month!

"Hey, Billy, since you're gonna be away, can I borrow your Fighter Stick for a few days? I promise—I'll take real good care of it..." That's how it starts. Then days turn into weeks, and the next thing you know, you and your former best friend are duking it out on the People's Court. One look at the Fighter Stick, and you'll know why. There's enough power here to change a person, to make 'em untrustworthy, even. There's Turbo-Fire and Auto-Turbo, with up to 36 shots per second. And super slow-mo lets you digest those really tough moves.

So, quit wrestling with those boring, wimpy control pads — reach for the Fighter Stick SN for the Super NES or the Fighter Stick SG-6, for Sega-Genesis and Sega-CD.
